THE GREAT BOLIVAR.
SPAIN, CHINA, TROUBLE.
SILVER TOO CHEAP.

Let those that torment themselves with foolish fears, and permit their fears to interfere with business, and the return of prosperity, ask themselves these questions:

Have we not had depressions before? Did we not then think that the end of the world was coming? Did not men go about, shaking their head, saying:

"Yes, but this is a different kind of depression; we never had anything like this."

Those that have been in business a reasonable length of time recall the head-shaking, moaning and groaning of 1907.

Haven't there been good times since 1907? Didn't business "pick up," to put it mildly, after 1907? Haven't we, since then, added hundreds of billions to the country's wealth?

And haven't we got everything now that we ever had?

Could anything be more stupid than talk and action of a kind harmful to business, to banks, and other institutions, upon which the prosperity of us all and every man's employment depend absolutely?

Twenty-three years ago, in October 26, 1907, when many were taking their money out of banks, making a bad condition worse, as some are doing now, there was published widely a useful statement headed "a word to the thoughtless". It said:

"To the wise no word is necessary. Men of knowledge understand full well that the country was never more prosperous, and that a panic in the midst of such unexampled industrial and commercial activity as this nation has recently enjoyed, and still enjoys, is a grotesque absurdity."

The reasoning of those persons who are now participating in runs upon perfectly solvent banking institutions is on a par with that of those citizens who think, because they merely pay rent, they need not have the same concern about the conduct of government as those who own property.

The informed man knows that those who pay rent are as much taxpayers as those who own the houses in which they live. Their concern with government is equally as great as that of the property owners.

"Likewise, the man who draws money from a perfectly solvent bank in such a time as this, instead of protecting himself, may be promoting his own undoing."

"Credit is the life of business. If banks fail, business will totter. If business is wrecked, employment will cease. And what will it profit a man if he get his small hoard from a bank at the price of his business or of his job?"

"Think of this before you join a line of the panic-stricken."

The statement was signed "William Randolph Hearst."

What was true then is true now. Those that allow themselves to become foolishly frightened when the country has lost nothing real, except its courage, hurt themselves and others.

Every intelligent person should

CLARK'S RULING FAILS TO CHECK RUM WARFARE

New Jersey Raiders Stage Drive; Thirty Are Arrested

(By Associated Press)
NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 17.—Prohibition enforcement continued to function in New Jersey today despite the ruling of Federal Judge William Clark that the method of adoption made the 18th amendment invalid.

The first liquor raid after announcement of the decision was made under direction of George S. Hobart, prosecutor of Bergen county, who sponsored the state's enforcement measure, in the legislature. He led a squad of police in a raid on the Riverside Boat and Yacht club early today, in which 30 men and women were arrested.

Judge Clark held that ratification of the 18th amendment by the state legislatures was not the method prescribed by Article five for adoption of amendment which transfer powers from the states to the federal government. He held that the amendment to be valid should have been ratified in constitutional conventions in the several states.

"My decision," commented Judge Clark, "will not affect the operation of the prohibition laws in any way. The Hobart act, the New Jersey enforcement law, is also still in force."

Common Pleas Judge William B. Harley at Trenton said that in view of the fact that every possible phase of the question having been threshed out, he could not conceive of Judge Clark's decision being sound.

Italian Planes Zoom Away On Trans-Atlantic Flight

Twelve Ships In Air Armada, With Rio De Janeiro As Goal, Off To Cartagena; General Balbo At Head

BULLETIN (By Associated Press)

CARTAGENA, SPAIN, Dec. 17.—Twelve Italian seaplanes, on a flight from Orbetello, Italy, to Rio De Janeiro, arrived here at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They left Orbetello at 7:45 this morning.

ORBITELLO, ITALY, Dec. 17.—Twelve Italian seaplanes roared away from Lake Orbetello at 7:45 a. m. today (1:45 a. m., E. S. T.) and headed for Cartagena, Spain, on the first lap of a projected transatlantic flight to Rio De Janeiro.

Balbo Heads Expedition

Piloting the first of the planes was General Italo Balbo, Italian air minister and leader of the expedition, which in many ways represents the most ambitious transatlantic flight adventure ever attempted. Fifty three men comprised the officers and crew of the Fascist Air Armada.

From Cartagena, the airmen plan to fly down the Mediterranean and west African coast to a point near Dakar, Senegal, whence the expedition will take off on a 1,900 mile flight across the Atlantic to Natal, Brazil, from Natal they will strike out for Rio De Janeiro. It is planned eventually to sell the planes to the Brazilian government and to return home by ship.

Pilots Back Plane

General Balbo took off in a black-winged plane emblematic of Fascism, two similar machines following. Then came three other groups of three planes each, the first with white wings, the second with red wings, and the third with green wings, representing the Italian national colors. In the rear were two relief planes, which may be substituted for any of the original twelve planes which may fall enroute.

Weather reports, after two days' postponement of the start, were favorable.

Prior to departure General Balbo discovered that chicken sandwiches had been included in the lunches fixed for the aviators. He ordered them removed, stating: "Chickens don't fly. They would mean bad luck to us."

Each of the twelve planes carried two sacks of mail for South America.

CITY LED STATE IN LAST CANVASS

Mercy Unit Busy As It Maps Winter Relief Program

A total of 2,695 persons, the greatest enrolled in a period of five years, became members of the Salem chapter, American Red Cross, in the annual roll call campaign held here recently, chapter officials announced today.

The membership exceeds the total enrolled last year by 495, the 1930 figure being 2,200.

Red Cross workers are confident that the Salem chapter will again rate high among Ohio municipalities in membership. For the last three years Salem's roll call campaigns have been the best, proportionately, in the state.

The Red Cross is planning its winter campaign to aid needy families in this city, workers reported today. Food, fuel, medical treatment and other assistance will be given in many homes.

Another campaign for funds may become necessary in the spring of 1931, the chapter reporting today that additional finances may be needed to continue providing aid for all needy families.

Appreciation of the cooperation given by Salem residents and manufacturing plants in the roll call drive was expressed today by officials of the chapter. The officials also explained that persons wishing to submit constructive comments on the Red Cross work do so by calling them.

Persons knowing of families needing aid are asked to notify the Red Cross by calling at telephone 219. Residents wishing to provide shelter for a family during the Christmas season will be given a name by calling at the chapter's headquarters.

The young teacher's bloodstained clothing were heaped beside her body. Dr. C. D. Humberd, coroner, said she had been attacked.

Sheriff Harve England was informed by school children that Velma Collier had remained alone in the building to read examination papers after dismissal of school at 4 o'clock. He said that Will New, a farmer living adjacent to the school, reported noticing a stranger loitering on the grounds.

THE PENDULUM

United States investments in Mexico were estimated at close to $1,000,000,000 at one time. On Jan. 1, 1930, however, the department of commerce placed the amount at $683,000,000. Therein lies a story. It might be called "the dollar and the pendulum."

In 1917 when Senor Carranza was president of Mexico a famous and very unpopular article was added to the Mexican constitution. It declared, among other things, that ownership of land does not carry with it ownership of mineral deposits below the surface.

This legislation, which amounted to expropriation, was exceedingly unpopular with American investors. Long negotiations, marked by several crises, between the United States and Mexico, were necessary before the legislation was declared non-retroactive to the satisfaction of this country. The whole affair added materially to bitterness between the two countries—bitterness that has done nothing to increase the amount of American investments in Mexico.

Now, in Mexico, legislation is pending that will do a great deal to remove the causes of bitterness. It is proposed to make it much easier for American investors to turn to Mexico by softening the old-fashioned harsh laws. For instance, it is proposed to exempt sugar plantations, orchards and dairy farms from seizure for the communal farms which Mexico has been developing in recent years. It is proposed also to forbid further accessions to existing communal farms unless payments for the new land are made in cash. In the past, such payments have been made by bonds, usually redeemable at only a fraction of their face value. This was obviously unfair.

The Mexican chamber of deputies already has approved the amendments to draw American capital back into Mexico. President Rubio approves the law and, since he controls the senate, enactment seems to be assured. The pendulum in Mexico is taking a swing toward cooperating with Washington and encouraging capital from north of the Rio Grande.

THE FIRST TURNING

Last year at this time the Carnegie foundation's report on collegiate football was the topic of conversation when talk turned to athletics. The report disclosed that professionalism was rife among the colleges and universities; that the glorious game of football was rapidly becoming tarnished by contact with money.

This year there is a different topic—a more healthy one. For the first time in the memory of the young men who played football last season there is serious, intelligent consideration of the course which must be pursued to place football on an amateur basis again. There is, in fact, a widespread and often bitter tone of rebellion against the million-dollar football business that has taken away so much of the pleasure from the football game.

The University of Pennsylvania's team has revolted openly. Most of the players refused to come out another year unless they could be instructed by a coach whom they respected and liked. As a result, the university will retain a new coach and the team will be placed under student control. In many other schools there has been contemplation of similar action.

It is the first turning in the march toward saner football—the first move to give football back to the young men who play it. Also, it is the first note of the recession march for a number of high-salaried and harder-driving coaches, more interested in winning games and getting more money than in the welfare of the young men placed in their charge by a short-sighted educational policy.

The existing notion seems to be that football belongs to the furred and flaked alumni, the coaches, the sports pages, the radio and everyone else who has money to help stage the spectacle. The notion of the future must be that football belongs to the young men who pay tuition to go to college, where they may or may not play football. With the game directly under student control, for instance, it is unthinkable that the members of the football squad would be subsidized from the funds of students who wanted to play the game themselves. It is unthinkable, too, that any coach who treated his men like third-rate pugilists would be tolerated for long.

There have been many long, dark days for those who rebelled at the monopolization of football by merchants and taskmasters. The present movement to make it a game again is the first bit of cheer in many a year.

What Others Say

ACHIEVEMENTS OF WOMEN

We are pained, we must confess, whenever we read about something like this dinner which Lady Astor gave to 36 celebrated women because "I think women had a simply wonderful year. Nearly everything valuable that was done was done by women and it has not been half recognized—not a quarter recognized, in fact." And the reason for our distaste is not that it awards women too much, but that it awards them too little; it implies that up to a short time ago what they had done that was valuable was nothing. This is so naive, so smug, so insensible to the whole point of human existence that it utters flabbergasting lies.

When you come to analyze what it means you find it is this: That women had a simply wonderful year at doing things usually done by men. Proof of this can be found in the roster of Lady Astor's guests; they include a lady aviator, a lady scientist, a lady politician, and so on. But for the sex to take pride in this is as silly as for men to take pride in some gentleman who can do embroidery or another who can nurse sick people, or another who can bake cakes. The gender of those who perform all such services varies from century to century, and from country to country, and matters not at all; the only thing of importance about them is how well they are performed.

There is a realm, to be sure, where men function as men and women as women. But it has very nebulous boundaries, and involves such things as manners, taste, dress and general culture. If men are more boorish now than they used to be, then they have slipped back; if women are more informed, better dressed, more urbane in their address, and thus more charming, they have gone ahead. But here we are on ground where ideas differ, and where conclusions are not drawn by partly checking off the valuable things that have been done, and inviting the 36 women who have done them to dinner. Indeed, we are up against an appraisal of civilization itself, and not many are equipped to tackle it.—New York World.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—It had been whispered about for some time that the master gladiator, Ziegfeld, was slipping. His agile young competitors, Carroll, White and lesser entrepreneurs were coming up from behind with a rush! Rumor mongers pointed out several facts.

Ziegfeld had been slowing up in show productions and had answered the call to Hollywood to dabble with talkies. Most of his executive staff had been dismissed. One or two of his final legitimate stage efforts were not so hot from the box office.

There was even talk the Ziegfeld theatre on 6th avenue was to be taken over and re-named for a younger rival. The Radio was writing "Finis" to its oddity figure who came out of nowhere and with an office under his hat sponsored the national theatrical institution—The Follies.

Or so it was generally believed. One can imagine Ziegfeld, himself, adding what credence he could to the talk with a card up his sleeve. He is that sort of a showman. He, of course, confounded all the wisecracks a month ago with his Marilyn Miller starring smash.

In a way it was a sort of double coup for both Ziegfeld and his star. There were the same vague whisperings about Miss Miller, too. She had been, they said, over-exploited and was at her best only a bridling and smirking dancing girl with a few nimble steps and a property smile. Yet with his familiar and worked-to-death Cinderella theme—the basis for that old conspicuous success "Sally," headed by Miss Miller—he has triumphed theatrically as never before. The critics fairly prostrated themselves with high-flown elegiacs. Too extravagant, to my notion.

Ziegfeld's art is in assembling and discarding. He puts together, enough for three shows and works from there by process of elimination. He will, par example, pit two hoofers against each other and engage the one that comes nearest to breaking a neck. He shoots with a blunderbuss.

A Ziegfeld opening takes on something of the splendor and pomp of a coronation set in the gilt halls of Versailles. A block each way is policed off and powerful searchlights splash the front of the theatre a la Hollywood. Crowds throng the sidewalks to peep into the arriving limousines. As they step from the cars, the flux of fashionables is momentarily stopped at crucial moments and the great snapshotted in the utter ridiculousness of arrested attitudes. The while their names are broadcast to a palpitating populace. All of which is likely supreme showmanship but to my notion is an impudent gesture that comes very nearly being The Great American Vulgarity.

Prof. Ziegfeld's exercises bring out a complement of notables in tail coats. The dinner coat is so rare as to be noticeable. Yet the impresario himself is conspicuous in a business suit with his usual lavender shirt with collar to match. He rehearses his company right up to time doors are thrown open.

Despite this rare and pay no critical attention to it, the latest Ziegfeld play is a box office flop. So there you are!

Tip to ice-creamists: The tastiest ice-cream in town is the coffee flavoured at Schrafft's. At least at this writing.

A truthful gentleman with no particular interest in psychic affairs relates this story, regarding it solely as a coincidence and not a conjunction. He accompanied a lady to a hotel to call for another gentleman to go on to a dinner. They announced themselves and waited. When the gentleman stepped from the elevator the lady turned ashen and all evening was nervous. Next morning she phoned her escort. "I have been unable to sleep," she said. "The gentleman we called for last night is doomed. I saw a light around his head." Two days later the gentleman who was "doomed" was rushed to a hospital and passed away before reaching an operating table.

It is not generally known the illustrious, rich and fashionable Belmont family is of Hebraic origin. The original name was Schonberg and was many years ago translated from German into French.

Someone inquires: "Who can say today, why tomorrow will be yesterday?" I can't be bothered. My worry today is concentrated solely on why stage Chinese shuffle-run around with heads down and arms folded in their sleeves like they were racing to a fire.

CONVULSIONS IN CHILDREN

Convulsions in young children, particularly in infants, are commonly seen. Unfortunately, many parents assume the wrong attitude toward this disorder.

It is true that convulsions rarely kill a child. But, if not remedied, the thing that actually causes the convulsions may prove very serious.

Convulsions in children are due either to organic or to functional causes. If "organic," it means that the child has meningitis, hemorrhage or tumor of the brain, abscess of the brain or some other disease within the skull. Surely such conditions cannot be treated lightly.

The "functional" type of convulsion is the usual type seen. Indeed, it is by far the more common.

Certain materials absorbed from the digestive organs will cause convulsions. In such cases, if seen and recognized as such, a good dose of castor oil will bring speedy recovery.

Convulsions may be due to some body poison. This is true in diseases of the kidneys or liver.

A rare cause, but one to be warned against, is lead poisoning. This poisoning is usually due to the child's rubbing and swallowing the paint from the crib or furniture.

Children suffering from under-nourishment are particularly prone to convulsions. This is commonly seen in rickets. There is no doubt whatsoever that if infants were properly fed, nine-tenths of the cases seen in infancy would disappear.

When a child has a convulsion, call a physician at once. You want him for his skill in first-aid. But also, it is important that he see the child while in convulsion so that he may more accurately determine the real cause.

The patient should be kept perfectly quiet. All unnecessary noises and excitement must be avoided.

Cold in the form of ice-packs should be applied to the head. Dry heat should be applied to the body and extremities, or the child should be placed in a hot tub bath, which you have tested with your elbow to be sure it is not too hot.

A mustard footbath is a good measure and may be applied as the child lies in the crib.

Internal medicine should only be given under the supervision of a physician. As soon as the convulsion has ended, the doctor will seek the cause which must be found and treated. This is absolutely imperative and must not be neglected.

CONGRESS LOOKS TO EXECUTIVES IN RELIEF TASK

Asks Secretary Hyde To Give His Version Of Drouth Plan

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Steamed up to the point of threatening to cut off its own Christmas holiday, congress looked today to the executive branch of government for more information to help it out of the relief legislation tangle.

Calls On Hyde
A house committee asked Secretary Hyde to tell his own version of how the $69,000,000 drought relief proposal came about, or at least whether he had any part in it. The senate had before it a new resolution by Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, asking that Chairman Woods of the President's eminent committee and a lot of other officials come up and tell the members just what can be done and is being done to alleviate the unemployment.

These men have already given such information to President Hoover, and their presentations went to make up the relief program presented to congress two weeks ago. Senator La Follette, however, put in his proposal after the chief executive announced he had no report from Chairman Woods and the only suggestions he had made "represent that confidential relation of the President with government officials which should be preserved."

Proposal Rejected
The agriculture committee of the House had Hyde before it at its own request, made after it again had rejected a Democratic proposal to approve the senate's $60,000,000 drought bill, carrying the disputed food loan provision.

Before the senate today also was the report of its conference committee on the $116,000,000 public works bill, recommending abandonment of amendments to restrict the President's discretion in spending the money, control the wages to be paid on its projects and make special provisions for some states.

CLARK FAILS TO CHECK WARFARE

Charge of transporting beer, in which the indictment was quashed by Judge Clark's decision, was quashed by the opinion today with a new taking an appeal.

He said the appeal might be taken either to the United States circuit court of appeals or direct to the supreme court.

"Meanwhile," he said, "As I understand it, no other judge in the United States, nor the judges of this district are bound by the opinion and therefore, enforcement of the Volstead act in New Jersey will continue until the remaining three judges of this bench all decide in agreement with Judge Clark, or, until a decision of the higher courts is reached in his opinion."

Outcome of Test Case
Judge Clark's decision was the outcome of what amounted to a test case of the contention of a committee of the New York County lawyers' association that the adoption of the 18th amendment was invalid under the 10th amendment to the constitution which modified Article Five.

Judge Clark at 38, is the youngest member of the federal bench. He was appointed in May 1925, by President Coolidge, resigning from the bench of the New Jersey court of appeals to accept the federal post. His appointment was backed by the late Wayne B. Wheeler, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

In his five years as a federal judge three of his decisions have been reversed out of 33 cases carried to higher courts.

Judge Clark's decision, 15,000 words, devoted little attention to points raised by counsel.

Never Submitted to Court
Declaring the points he was deciding had never been submitted to the supreme court, Judge Clark noted that the fifth article states: "amendment to the constitution may be ratified 'by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof.'"

"Political science," he wrote, "can give only one answer to the question presented by the alternative methods of ratification prescribed by Article Five if the amendment to be considered is one assigned to transfer to the United States powers heretofore reserved to the states, or if there are any such, to the people, that answer must be in favor of the convention method."

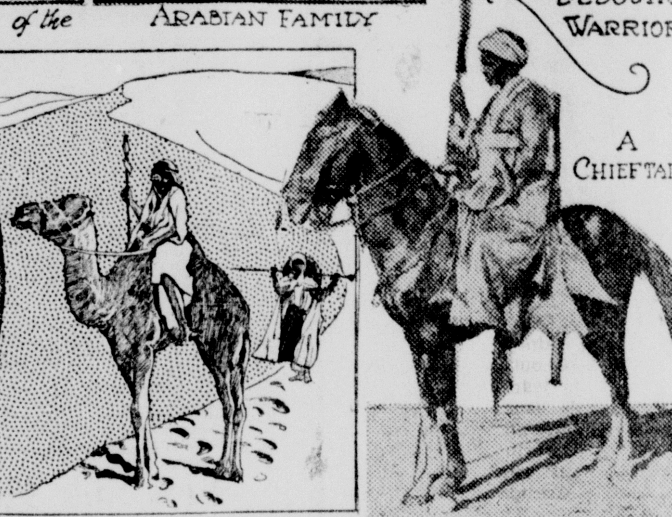

He held his decision should not affect other amendments ratified by state legislatures, since the only one whose nature in any respect resembled the 18th, was the 13th, the slavery amendment.

The distinction, he said, was that the 13th amendment did not "as does the 18th, contain a grant of power to regulate and prohibit certain acts."

Arab Wives Bought for $8 to $24

General Depression Compels Desert Sheiks to Reduce Harem — Many Remain Bachelors in a Land Where Prestige Is Measured by Number of Wives.

NEW YORK.—In these unromantic times when husbands are worried about business and the stock market, you may feel that it might be thrilling to be the wife of a sheik.

You may suppose that those free and passionate desert souls are never concerned with anything so mundane as money.

HAREM DEPRESSION

Still, reports indicate times, too, are hard in Algiers. So bad it seems that the sheiks are affording only one wife and some of them are remaining bachelors. When you stop to think that the social and financial status of an Arab gentleman is determined by the number of wives and cattle he possesses, you will realize that the men of Algiers are very much strapped.

To possess only one wife in Algiers is like owning one suit in America. From this simile we may imagine what it must be like to possess no wife at all.

The cost of a wife in Algiers has gone up with the cost of living. A wife today is worth between eight and ten dollars. The top price is $24.

LOAN DIVIDEND IS ANNOUNCED

Two and Three-Quarter Percent Declared for Six-Month Period

The Home Savings and Loan company of Youngstown, with branch offices in Salem and Struthers, has declared the regular two and three quarters per cent dividend on accumulations of its depositor members for the six month period ending December 31, it was announced here today.

Approximately $1,000,000 will be distributed to the 56,000 depositors of the Home Savings institutions, bringing the dividends up to five and one-half per cent for those paid in 1930.

The company's showing was made in the face of a general business decline.

After payments of dividends to depositor members the loan company will, in addition transfer approximately $370,000 to surplus for 1930, officials estimate. Total dividends paid by Home Savings since its founding, in 1889, including those of 1930, are approximately $18,000,000. Resources of the company are $40,000,000.

TODAY

know that what we call a dollar is used over and over again by many. The property of the United States is not in cash. There are a few dollars at most for each American. We do our business with checks and credit, our real wealth is in land, mines, mills, factories.

In the whole of the United States there isn't enough money to pay the depositors in the savings banks, or a lot of frightened fools started to draw it out, all at once.

High-spirited Americans in Wall street learning nothing from the past, are cowering like chickens when they see a hawk near the clouds, and in this case, there is no hawk. The human chickens have quaked themselves into a state of fear.

They emphasize their fears by selling stocks at prices far below those at which, later, they will buy them back. You can buy stocks, absolutely safe, that will continue paying dividends, at prices that yield 10 per cent on the investment. That cannot last long.

A great man, of whom the world knows too little, died 100 years ago today. Our southern neighbor, Bolivia, is named for Simon Bolivar, who was born in Venezuela in 1783 and died in 1830, after giving freedom from Spain to Venezuela.

And the prospective husband must purchase the bride without seeing her. He has no idea what he's getting, and, worse still, he has no redress. Once the Arab gentleman has bought a wife, he has to stick to her. There is no divorce for him.

Contrary to Western ideas, the Arab sheiks do not prefer Western women to their own. In the first place a Western woman would be considered a luxury, for she would not get out in the fields and work like her Eastern sister. Of course it is only the poorer class which permit their women to work in the fields without face covering.

The better class generally live in towns and cities, where the Arab wives spend their entire time indoors or on the roof terrace, save for an occasional visit to the mosque, during which her face is covered, leaving only her large dark eyes peering over the top of her veil.

THE SILENT ARAB

Even with the wealth which theirs the wife of an Arab sheik is far from pleasant. The husband is the most uncompanionable soul on earth. He practically never talks. He thinks and he thinks and only Allah himself knows what thoughts are going through the unwashed head.

He owns little less.

An Arab will not steal. Stealing is most unethical. But he will take whatever he wants while the owner is looking on, which to his code is perfectly ethical.

THE NATIVE TAXI

The glamour of life which to the Western mind is associated with the Arab sheik, to the natives is nothing more than a life of hardship, which, however, is taken in that free and easy fashion. Even the most adventure-loving Western girl would scarcely feel happy riding in the native taxi, which serves as a protection for the harem beauties against the burning rays of the desert sun. The women are seated in the baskets on either side of the camel with their faces concealed by a veil which is only raised in the presence of their lord and master. Now these olive-skinned beauties are considered more desirable than Western women and far less expensive, inasmuch as they can be had for about eight dollars.

HOSPITALS NOW ONE OF NATION'S BIG INDUSTRIES

Total Value Of Plants And Equipment Ahead Of Other Lines

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—American hospitals, multiplying rapidly in recent years, now constitute one of the nation's major industries.

While the ordinarily healthy individual has only a casual acquaintance with hospitals, it was revealed today that there are nearly a million beds occupied most of the time by persons ill in mind or body.

Investment Is High

It was also revealed in a report by Dr. Rufus Rorem, economist on the staff of the committee on the costs of medical care, that the total value of hospital plants and equipment is $3,125,123,000. This is more than the total investment in the label or paper and printing industries. It is nearly half the investment in iron and steel and their products.

The committee was organized under the chairmanship of Secretary of Interior Wilbur to study the economic aspects of the prevention and care of sickness. Rorem gathered facts which put a new and surprising light on the extent to which hospitalization has developed.

Dr. Rorem's report showed, among other things, that:

The average daily cost of maintaining a hospital bed is $5.

The annual cost of the 7,310 hospitals in the United States is $600,000,000 or nearly one-third of the total yearly expenditures of the federal government.

Ninety-one per cent of the $3,125,123,000 investment is on a non-profit basis, provided in about equal proportions by governments and private associations.

Resources Unevenly Divided

There are enough beds in the country as a whole to give every man, woman and child one day in a hospital every year.

The hospital resources are unevenly divided, the far west providing the most service per capita.

There are communities having inadequate hospital facilities and others where the hospitals normally operate below full capacity.

Ninety-five per cent of all nervous and mental cases in hospitals and 75 per cent of all hospitalized tuberculosis cases, are in government supported institutions.

State governments have invested about $300,000,000 in hospitals. Practically all hospitals, if considered as a business enterprise, are run at heavy losses. In 57 New York hospitals patients as a group paid only about two-thirds of the cost.

The wheat surplus mess is a home problem

Housewives know what to do with left-over food. They encourage their families to eat it up. That's plain common sense. But you couldn't expect men to think of anything so simple as that.

Take the wheat surplus, for instance. All the trouble men are making such a fuss over amounts to this: There's too much wheat in the country. More than enough to go around. Farmers can't sell all their wheat. Yet many of them depend on it for a living.

Any woman can tell you that the way to get rid of too much wheat is to encourage the people to eat it up. An extra slice of bread for all each meal would soon do it. If your families won't eat an extra slice—just cut it a little thicker. Or try macaroni or noodles—anything full of wheat. Whether you buy wheat products from A&P or not, feed your families lots of wheat. It's good for them.

What this country needs is a good housekeeper.

BEN B. LINDSEY ON TRIAL TODAY

Bishop Manning Principal Witness Against Former Judge

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Ben B. Lindsey goes to trial this afternoon on a revised charge of disorderly conduct, with Bishop William T. Manning as his principal witness.

The case rose out of a disturbance in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine two Sundays ago when Lindsey volubly objected to Bishop Manning's denunciation of his views and was forcibly removed from the church.

Charge Reduced

On the protest of Lindsey's attorney, Arthur Garfield Hays, that his client was being placed in double jeopardy by the wording of the complaint, the trial was postponed last Wednesday and the charge reduced to simple disorderly conduct, instead of disturbing a church service.

Bishop Manning, head of the Episcopal diocese of New York, again has been subpoenaed and has been directed to bring a marked copy of Lindsey's book on companionate marriage, a telegram from the author pleading for an impartial hearing and a copy of the sermon which led to the melee.

The hearing is before Magistrate August Dreyer at 2 p. m. under the penal code, Lindsey is liable to maximum penalty of $50 fine, or six months in jail, or both. Under the previous charge, he would have been liable to maximum punishment of $500 fine and one year in jail or both.

Town Of Kirkland Lake In Fight Against Sore Throat

(By Associated Press)

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 17.—Three hundred residents of the town of Kirkland Lake are receiving medical attention for septic sore throat. There have been five deaths.

In a message received by Dr. J. M. Robb, minister of health, from his deputy minister, Dr. W. J. Bell, who is now at Kirkland Lake, it was stated the disease had been traced directly to two workmen employed by one of the dairies.

"The germ is a very malignant one and is known as Streptococcus Haemolyticus," said Dr. Robb. "The disease is usually a long drawn out one, and highly contagious."

The 300 cases are divided about equally between children and adults. Scarlet fever anti-toxin is being used with varying results.

The minister of health said he believed the situation was fairly well in hand, but that it still was serious.

G. O. P. EXTENDS OLIVE BRANCH TO INSURGENTS

Five Revolters Are Given Chairmanships, Committee Places

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17.—Regular Republicans will go into the new Ohio senate with the olive twig extended to the five insurgents who bolted the recent caucus.

The first peace overture was seen yesterday when the committee on chairmanships gave each of the revolted a committee chairmanship and representation on most of the 21 standing committees.

Insurgents Are Absent

All of the insurgents absented themselves from the meeting. Republicans must have the support of at least two of the insurgents in order to control the senate.

The insurgents and the committees they will head are: C. J. Anderson, Shelby, utilities; V. D. Emmmons, Akron, conservation; Frank E. Whittemore, Akron, public works and state buildings; Walter G. Nichols, New Philadelphia, highways and automotive; and Nils P. Johnson, Youngstown, commerce and industry.

The Democrats were given one less than a majority on most of the committees, but received no chairmanships.

Assign Chairmanships

Chairmanships assigned to regular Republicans included that of the finance committee which went to Robert L. Rohe, of Tiffin. Joseph N. Ackerman, of Cleveland, who had sought the finance post, was made chairman of the temperance committee which will handle bills dealing with prohibition. Ackerman, a wet, expects to submit bills to repeal all state liquor laws. Three other members of the temperance committee also are avowed wets, four are dry while the ninth member, John A. Lloyd of Portsmouth, has not revealed his attitude.

The important taxation committee which will handle legislation to revise the state's taxation system under the new classification plan will be headed by Roy E. Gillen, of Wellston.

Lewis Rules Chief

Earl R. Lewis, of St. Clairsville, president, protom-designate, was chosen head of the rules committee which will be of importance in pushing through majority legislation in case the insurgents withhold their support. D. H. Dearmond of Hamilton, minority leader, also is a member of this committee.

Other chairmanships include: Milton J. Scott, Chillicothe, banks and loan associations; J. G. Lowery, New Concord, education; John A. Lloyd, Portsmouth, enrollment; William A. Clark, Urbana, insurance; L. Marshall, judiciary; and James E. Finckel, Canal Fulton, public health.

The committee on patronage also met yesterday, assigning 26 of the 41 minor senate jobs to Republicans and 15 to Democrats. All committee choices are subject to ratification by the senate which convenes January 5.

RECEIVE FUNDS FOR ROAD WORK

Townships To Get $1,400 From State Excise Gasoline Tax

LISBON, Dec. 17.—Various townships in Columbiana county for the current year have received $1,400 from excise gasoline tax, which is $200 more than had been anticipated. This money is to be used for the construction by township trustees of secondary roads.

Auditor Gets $7,200

A voucher for $7,200 has been received from the state by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker, which is being distributed equally between the 18 townships of the county, and during the year a total of $25,200 has been distributed between the townships.

County Auditor Walker has been informed that in 1929, there was sold in Ohio 13,400,000,000 gallon of gasoline, and that the average tax per automobile for gasoline was $17.72, and the average amount of gas used by each motor vehicle during that period was 532 gallon.

Under the three-cent tax law prevailing in 1928 approximately $25,000 was collected in Ohio and in 1929 under the four cent tax approximately $44,000,000 was collected. Of this amount, various municipalities according to vehicle registration in 1929 received $4,700,000 and the various counties were paid $4,400,000.

The state received as its share for the year $15,500,000, or 62 1/2 per cent of the amount collected. The 88 counties in the state received a cut equal to five percent and the 1,338 townships received a share equal to 10 per cent. From the share the state received, $1,000,000 under the more recent law was appropriated for the elimination of railroad crossings.

CAPITAL CALM FOLLOWING DRY LAW DECISION

Amendment Supporters Predict Reversal In High Court

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Neither cheers nor groans echoed in Washington at news that a federal judge had ruled the 18th amendment invalid. Such opinion as was expressed here today held the decision would not cut much ice.

Drys predicted the supreme court, if and when the ruling comes up for review, will reverse it. They cited numerous precedents. The justice department held it could not, until after supreme court action, affect the status of prohibition. Anti-prohibitionists in Washington had not summed up their attitude, but most heads of national wet groups in other cities were conservative in comment.

The drys gave their position in expressing belief that the grounds upon which Judge William Clark, of New Jersey, yesterday decided against the prohibition amendment, had been held unsound by the supreme court years ago.

Edward B. Dunford, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, said the contention in the case "is not new" and "was held unsound when first made ten years ago."

The highest bench has held repeatedly that various attacks on constitutional prohibition had no merit. It has refused to entertain several other attempts to break down the amendment. Those who know well the workings of the court hold the view that in matters of this sort it is inclined to a liberal construction of the constitution's provisions. The justices thus would be interpreting the amendment as an expression of the people's will which should prevail over the narrower technicalities.

The only direct effect anticipated from Judge Clark's ruling was a possibility that in his jurisdiction authorities might refuse to act against violators.

Sentenced To Pen

HAMILTON, Dec. 17.—Richard Brewer, 36, was sentenced yesterday to 15 to 20 years in Ohio state penitentiary for killing Patrolman Daniel Sandlin at Middletown last May after the officer sought to question Brewer about an alleged liquor-filled auto.

MOVIES

"KING OF JAZZ"

At The State

The comedy and instrumental specialties for which individual members of the Paul Whiteman band are famous, are presented in "King of Jazz," the Universal super-spectacle which plays tonight for the last time at the State.

The Rhythm Boys, whose inimitable harmonies have enthralled audiences all over the world, Wilbur Hall and his unique instrumental numbers, John Fulton with his romantic voice, "Goldie" Goldfield with his eccentric cornet—all of these, and others, are in the all-
Moviets, all-Technicolor film.

The specialties are distributed throughout the eight huge musical spectacle numbers conceived by John Murray Anderson, the director, and the comedy and musical specialties and black-outs which make "King of Jazz" the superlative in screen entertainment.

The cast includes John Boles,
Laura La Plante, Glenn Tryon,
Jeanette Loff, Grace Hayes, the Russell Market dancers, the "Hollywood Beauties," the "Sisters G,"
Paul Howard, Al Norman, Charlie
Irwin, Jacques Cartier, Billy Kent,
Frank Leslie, the Brax Sisters, the
Tommy Atkins Sextet and Nell O'-
Day.

"THE CUCKOOS"

At The Grand

"The Cuckoos," musical comedy produced by Radio pictures, will have its final performance at the Grand tonight.

Two comedians, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, head the all-star cast. They will be remembered for their clever antics in "Rio Rita."

Dorothy Lee, who also played in "Rio Rita," again is teamed with Wheeler and Woolsey and scores with her inimitable singing and dancing.

Jobyna Howland, six foot comedienne from Broadway, makes her talking picture debut in "The Cuckoos." She is said to be a ludicrously funny foil for Wheeler and Woolsey. June Clyde and Hugh Trevor furnish the romantic love interest in a charming manner.

Although nine featured players are included in the cast, "The Cuckoos" is not a revue. Taken from the stage play, "The Ramblers," the picture definitely carries the plot of an exciting story in a hilarious manner.

Salem High Faces Stiff Opponents On Cage Court This Week

GOLDEN EAGLE, GROVE ELECTRIC CAGERS WIN LEAGUE VICTORIES

(THE DAY In Sports

BUSY CAGE WEEK AHEAD.
CHARITY GAME MONDAY.
FIVE CONTESTS TONIGHT.

With the municipal league basketball season already under way, Salem basketball fans will have a week replete with cage contests, five being billed at the Memorial gym tonight, two at Kelley's park, Leetonia on Thursday night, two at Canton Friday and another pair involving Coach Floyd Stone's Red and Black quintet, at Akron East gym, Saturday night. The games Friday and Saturday inaugurate the Stomenen's 1930-31 cage campaign. The R. E. Grove Electric cagers are the busiest of any city sandlot teams, having played one game already this week and are scheduled to appear in action in two others. Tonight they clash with the strong Lisbon Pennzils in the main attraction at the Memorial building with the Golden Eagle quintet battling the New Waterford Independents in the semifinals. Three Class B league teams are slated as preliminary entertainment.

Thursday night the Grovemmen inaugurate basketball in Leetonia, meeting Doc Beaver's Leetonia Merchants in the first basketball game played at Kelley's park in five years. Two Class B teams from this city will appear in the preliminary tilt.

Salem High's youthful and partly veteran cage quintet faces almost certain defeat in both its opening games this week. Both Canton McKinley and Akron East, powerful teams last season, have almost their entire array of stars back and are destined to once again rate high in state interscholastic competition. In the face of these facts a large group of Salem fans will be witnessing both contests.

Max Schmeling must either accept a hefty bribe at him by Jack Sharkey or lose his heavyweight championship fight title. So the National Boxing Commission cabled him Tuesday afternoon for the six-months allowed him in which to accept Sharkey's challenge has expired. Schmeling promised to give the garrulous go a return match directly after winning from him on a foul in a bout held at New York last June. Instead of standing by his promise he returned to Germany.

The German has done nothing to improve his boxing talents since leaving this country so the N. B. A.'s action in vacating the heavyweight throne is expected. If this occurs Sharkey will probably be placed into the spotlight as the first in line for the vacated throne with Max Baer, W. L. "Young" Stribling and other likelihoods next in line. No elimination tournament is planned.

To make doubly sure his getting another crack at Schmeling and the title which now should be his Sharkey filed another challenge with the N. B. A. Tuesday afternoon.

MANAGERS! NOTICE!
Managers and coaches of basketball teams wishing to insert articles relating to the activities of their teams in The News are requested to submit such before 9:30 a. m. the date of publication. No sport news can be handled after that hour unless it is of vital importance. Summaries of games played must be in before 9 a. m. and should be placed in The News office the night the games are played.

Pro Grid Teams To Clash For Laurels

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Benny Friedman's New York Giants and Ken Strong's Stapleton outfit have decided to meet in a rubber game to decide the professional football championship of New York. They will clash in the Polo grounds Sunday.

The Giants won the first game, a regularly scheduled National pro league contest, 9 to 7, on Friedman's field goal but Stapleton gained revenge, 7-6, on Thanksgiving day.

Florists, Furnace Lose Decisions In Opening Games At Memorial

The 1930-31 Class A municipal basketball season was ushered in with two exciting, though rough battles, at the Memorial building gymnasium Tuesday night, victory laurels being awarded to the R. E. Grove Electric company and the Golden Eagle court aggregations.

The Golden Eagle team started its campaign for a second consecutive city league championship, defeating the Electric Furnace combine, 36-21, in the second game on the night's program. The Electric trimmed the McArtor Florists by a 24-20 score in the first and most exciting contest.

Electric Set Pace
The Electric set the pace most of the way in the opener and held a 7-3 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Posies rallied slightly in the second period to climb within one point of a tie and the half ended with the score 9-8. With the game continually becoming rougher, both teams went on a temporary scoring spree late in the edge and the fourth chapter third period, the Florists holding started with the score knotted at 16-16.

Two foul shots by Andy Filip placed the Posies ahead for the first time during the game but a

CLASS A CAGERS CLASH IN GAMES IN CITY TONIGHT

Five Contests Scheduled; Grove Team Meets Lisbon

Five basketball games, featuring two Salem Class A league teams in contests with out-of-town sandloters, will be played at the Memorial building gymnasium tonight.

Golden Eagle Plays
The two feature contests involving the R. E. Grove Electrics in the main battle of the evening against the Lisbon Pennzils while the Golden Eagle clashes with the New Waterford Independents in the semifinals. Three city Class B league games will furnish preliminary entertainment.

The first Class B game, featuring the Lutheran Cadets versus the "Question Marks" is scheduled at 6:45. The Trinity Lutheran church team meets the Salem China quintet in the second with the Business College and Schaefer's Green Room five clashing in the third.

Saxons Win Easily
In a practice game played at the Memorial gym last night the Salem Saxons, competitors for their second straight Penn-Ohio German league championship, showed every indication of being a real titular contender this season, defeating the fast-playing Canfield Olympics, 44-29. Work of Les Older and Schwartzoff were features of the victory.

The Deutschmen open their league season Jan. 10, meeting the Alliance Saxons here. Pete Sanders is coaching the Salem team.

Columbiana Breaks Even In Twin Bill
COLUMBIANA, Dec. 17.—Columbiana High school basketballers broke even in two games Saturday evening played at New Waterford, the boys winning their second straight contest while the girls lost their second.

The next games will be played here Friday evening against Bessemer teams. Coach Atkins' boys will endeavor to get revenge for their 20-28 defeat of last year, while Coach Ruth Young's girls will endeavor once more to break into the win column.

Americans Compete

MONTREAL, QUE., Dec. 17.—A strong American contingent again will compete in the Canadian indoor tennis championships, here Jan. 20-24.

Nine Lettermen Back At Canton; Three Big Stars At Akron East

Salem High's youthful varsity aggregation faces almost certain defeat in two games which will inaugurate the Red and Black cage campaign for 1930-31 season, being scheduled to clash with two veteran squads, touted as outstanding teams in Ohio interscholastic competition. Canton McKinley High and Akron East, both victors over Coach Floyd Stone's team last season, are played Friday and Saturday nights, respectively.

McKinley High has a potential state championship creation this season, as all members of the team which last March advanced to the semi-finals of the state tournament at Columbus are back. Nine letter men are on the squad. They are Captain Don Black, Robert Schreiber, Grady Odum and Earl Schreiber, forwards; Robert Forsyth and Robert Swihart, centers, and Frank Hodnick, Joe Cross and Roy George, guards. The latter was an all-state selection in 1930-31.

Youngsters Show Promise
In addition, there is at least five newcomers of exceptional merit. These include Elbert (Doc) Clark and Earl Miller, forwards; John Boylan, center, and George Thorley and Buddy Hartzel, guards. All were members of last season's reserve team of which Clark was captain.

This stellar array of talent has presented Coach Dwight Peabody with the opportunity of developing two combinations of almost equal caliber. R. Schreiber and Black at the forwards, Forsyth at center and George and Hodnick at the guards is considered the first-string lineup. But another quintet which finds Clark and Odum at the forwards, Swihart at center and Cross and Hartzel at the guards is little less impressive.

Swamp Columbus South
The Bulldogs have played only one of their 17 games this season, defeating Columbus South 34 to 7 here last Friday night. To say that McKinley played poorly may sound foolish in the face of such a decisive score, but it is nevertheless true. When the boys hit their stride they'll be a hard number to beat and the first team played only a little more than half of the Columbus game. South, of course, is nothing about which to post bills, showing little on defense and absolutely nothing at all on offense.

Last season Canton didn't have a letterman back while Salem had six, the latter being the heavy favorite to trim the Bulldogs. Instead Canton registered a one-sided 40-22 victory which started the Stone men off into a winning streak of seven straight. Salem has seldom developed an outstanding team from the start of the season, the campaign of 1925-26 and 1926-27 being the only exceptions in the past decade. During the latter season Salem played McKinley in the finals of the district tourney at Akron Goodyear gym and won the sectional title with a 22-16 victory over the Bulldogs.

Friday's game will be the third played between the two schools in more than ten years.

Grove Electrics Will Battle Leetonia Merchants Thursday

Renewing basketball activities in Leetonia, the Leetonia Merchants battle the fast-stepping R. E. Grove Electric company team in the main game of a doubleheader scheduled at Kelley's park pavilion Thursday night.

The Merchants have been holding practices at the hall for the past ten days and will place a strong team into independent competition this year, Harold Lowrie of Salem, manager of the park, announced today.

Burkle Coaches Team
Buck Burkle, former Columbia high and Mount Union cage star, now coach at Boardman High school, is coaching the team.

The Leetonia aggregation is being backed by Dr. P. H. Beaver. Repair to the pavilion for the basketball court were made possible through donations of lumber by Ira F. Meinger.

A large crowd of court fans anticipated at the contests, it being the first basketball involving Leetonia team in five years. Lack of a playing court prevented organization of teams until this season and plan! are already progressing for the return of the sport into the high school.

Organize Class Team
Class teams are holding almost daily sessions and it is probable that an intramural league will be established.

The Grove Electrics, with former Salem High cagers, are one of the city's classiest Class A aggregation. Included on the team's roster are Paul Fogg, Evan "Jinx" Jenkins, Bruce Cope, Pete Harsh, Bunk Hill, Clarence Sidingler and Jimmy Scullion. Eddie Tresler, Salem serial artist, is manager.

Two Salem class B teams will play the preliminary, scheduled to start at 7:30.

Rudolph Threatens Greenleaf's Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Once more Ralph Greenleaf of New York, facing an uphill battle to retain his world pocket billiards championship.

As a result of the spectacular play of Erwin Rudolph, Chicago ace, Greenleaf must defeat Onofre Lauri of New York in the championship tournament tonight, and Rudolph tomorrow night to gain tie. Should he accomplish this he then would have to meet Rudolph in a play-off for the title.

Rudolph hung up his sixth successive victory of the tournament last night, defeating Arthur Woods, New York, 125 to 108 in 33 innings. Greenleaf has won four matches and lost one.

Galen Greenisen Discusses History Of Auto Tire Development

Comfort, Speed Show Increase Over Years

Rubber Manufacturers Important Contributors To Success Of Industry In Evolution Of Transportation

"Early experimenters in motor transportation were confronted with one all consuming problem," says Galen H. Greenisen of the Greenisen Tire Service at 176 South Broadway, recalling some of the incidents in the early development of the automobile; "that was the problem of making the contraption run more than a mile or so without something going wrong. Ever since that day we have been making them go farther and faster with equal attention to riding comfort. Now, did you ever figure how much tires have contributed to the evolution from the crude gas buggy, at almost prohibitive prices, to the speedy, luxurious car of today?"

"First we had solid tires; then the uncertain and often explosive fabric tire. Next Goodrich introduced the cord tire and we had easier riding and greater security along with more mileage. Then came the balloon tire. Of course there is much to be said on both sides of the question, but whether better tires made better automobiles possible, or faster automobiles made better tires necessary will always be a subject for argument—like the question of the egg and the hen.

"Probably the facts are that tire manufacturers and auto manufacturers worked so closely together that the difference doesn't amount to much. Anyhow, we know that ordinary driving speed now was a most startling speed a few years ago and that we used to listen for the tires to blow out, scared half to death all the time, while now we roll along and never think of the tires. And what a difference in comfort these safe new tires have made. They wear longer, too. Look at the record that Silvertowns made on the Goodrich Silver Fleet, or look at the records Goodrich tire users are making on cars right in Salem.

"In this shop after we have repaired tires, owners frequently get the crude gas buggy, at almost prohibitive prices, to the speedy, luxurious car of today."

SEATTLE—Twenty-six thousand one-pound cans of freshly packed salmon were donated to Seattle's needy citizens as a general relief program was launched here to aid the destitute and unemployed. The salmon—13 tons of it—was donated by salmon packers and distributed by welfare organizations and institutions.

LA TREMBLADE — At lunch, Mademoiselle Pinard discovered 33 pearls in one oyster, two of them handsome black specimens. They have been sent to a jeweler at Nantes to be assayed.

OLD FURNITURE IS REPAIRED TO LOOK LIKE NEW

Bodendorfer Master Hand At Reupholstering Work

Reupholstering furniture in any style and refinishing the frame is the work of William Bodendorfer at the Bodendorfer Furniture Store. Mr. Bodendorfer has had a wealth of experience at this location for over eighteen years and 35 years in the business. He can take an old piece of furniture and make it look like it came out of the shop yesterday, and he likes to do this work, which is perhaps the secret of the success he has made in it.

But it is not necessary to wait until a piece is useless to have it reupholstered. Every home has a piece or two that is showing the signs of wear. It is out of keeping with the new wall paper and the brightly cleaned rugs. Sometimes a sentimental value attaches to it. That piece can be upholstered in new colors, refinished if necessary and be just as attractive as anything in the house.

Of if you are tired of the looks of your home, as people often are, and you just don't know how to get it to suit you, try new upholstery. A change of color is perhaps the one thing you need to give you a harmonious, restful living room, and Mr. Bodendorfer will be much pleased to help you select the fabrics that will be the most effective.

Officers of D.A.R. Meet in Hub

Hotel Statler, Boston, was the meeting place of the national officers of the Daughters of the American Revolution and State officers of the New England Chapters. Mrs. Kewell Fletcher Hobart, left, President General of the national society, is shown with the Massachusetts Regent, Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd.

Winter Confinement Calls For Bright, Cheerful Homes

The fact that folks are confined to their homes more during the winter months makes it imperative that the interiors of these homes should be made attractive and comfortable. The logical time to fix up the inside of a house is right now, and two things which probably will have to be done are papering and painting.

Many people think that it is necessary to hire this work done, but this idea is largely the result of never having made the effort. How do you know you can't do it if you've never tried? With a good quality of wall paper and the necessary tools, even a beginner can produce a very presentable looking job. At any rate it will look better than the old paper. The same thing is true of painting—everybody likes to paint and with good paint and good brushes, you can work wonders in a short time.

The Redinger Wall Paper and Paint Store, 196 South Broadway, handle the well known Pierce Wall Papers, Stonetex, Trucon Paints and Enamels. A wide choice of interior finishes and decoration schemes can be visualized in the variety of attractive paint colors and paper designs available at this store.

The outside of your home, too, should receive attention this fall because there is nothing that causes more rapid depreciation than wood surfaces exposed to the wind and weather. There is a lot of truth in the slogan "Save the surface and you save all." Redingers carry outside paints of every color and for every condition.

Many Modern Conveniences Dependent On Sheet Metal

Much of the comfort and convenience of modern life has come to depend on sheet metal. Quer how our great grandfathers had to get along without these things, how little our fathers used them, and then again how the present generation has come to depend on things that were of little use to previous generations. But the humble sheet of galvanized metal has assumed so many uses in our homes and places of business that good sized concerns have grown up to do the work in this metal.

Our roofs, our heating apparatus, our sanitary comforts and many other complexities of modern life often depend on how well this work is done. The leaking roof, the inadequate heating pipe and a dozen other discomforts await the man who has a botched job in this metal. Those are ample reasons for entrusting such work to a house that has a reputation to sustain. When this house happens also to have a remarkable record of continuity in business, furnishing it with the experience to know how to do work as it should be done as well as evidence of popular approval and which prides itself on the quality of the work it does, you are safe in calling them up and telling them what you need.

Such a concern is Starbuck Bros. located on North Ellsworth ave., with a record of seven years of service.

CHEF AT OHIO SUPPLIES FOOD THAT SATISFIES

Local Restaurant Serves Dishes For Tired Appetites

When you have done a full day's work and want a good meal to top off the day's performance, when your appetite is not any too good because you are tired, just step into the Ohio Restaurant at 694 East State street, make up your mind you are going to get something good, and order one of the steaks. Pretty soon it will appear, done just as you want it, and you will say there is no scarcity of good meat in America today if you only know where to go.

Let the chef prepare you a side order of French fried potatoes and take with it one of the salads you find on the bill of fare. The former will crackle as your teeth meet, the latter will melt into a delicious freshness as you lift a forkful. After you have eaten the last crumb—and you will, for a man does not leave anything that tastes so good—add to it either a fine piece of good pie or a dish of ice cream, sip your coffee in content, and the world will become rosy again. The old brain will take up the things you want it to do with renewed vigor, and you will wonder why you ever felt a day's work had exhausted you.

That is the mission in life of William Nyktas, proprietor and chef of this restaurant—to supply food that makes mankind content. He devotes his whole attention to this, for he watches everything at this place, from the buying, in which he sometimes order a whole beef, to the serving. Nyktas knows good food. He makes it as near the homemade variety as a restaurant can, and he is complimented when you tell him he does real home cooking. The Ohio is open all day and in the evenings. It solves the question people frequently ask themselves, "Where shall we eat?" and solves it satisfactorily for a large and increasing patronage.

WASHINGTONVILLE

"Gwen Allen's Christmas," a sacred dramatic cantata in three acts will be given by the Trinity Lutheran Sunday school on Sunday evening, December 21 at 7:30 o'clock. The story concerns the children of the Gray family who are making their Christmas plans together with their friends, all members of the "Go and Serve Club," trying to take care of a rather long list of needy people. A telegram announces the arrival of Grandfather Allen, a cousin of the Gray children, pampered, spoiled and self-centered. All prospects of a happy season seem spoiled, and at first Gwen lives up to her reputation. But when brought face to face with the desperate need of the club's proteges, she experiences a change of heart, and throws herself whole-souledly into the enterprise of the club, with the result of a happy Christmas, all around.

The cast of characters: Joseph Justice, Marie Candler, Thelma Indermill, Betty King, Betty DeJane, Myron DeJane, Arlene Girard and Eleanor Davis. Special numbers which will be given between acts will include recitations, exercises and special music. The offering will be used for the needy families of the community. An invitation is extended to the public.

Today
THE GREAT BOLIVAR.
SPAIN, CHINA, TROUBLE.
SILVER TOO CHEAP.
By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Let those that torment themselves with foolish fears, and permit their fears to interfere with business, and the return of prosperity, ask themselves these questions:
Have we not had depressions before? Did we not then think that the end of the world was coming? Did not men go about, shaking their head, saying:
"Yes, but this is a different kind of depression; we never had anything like this."
Those that have been in business a reasonable length of time recall the head-shaking, moaning and groaning of 1907.
Haven't there been good times since 1907; didn't business "pick up," to put it mildly, after 1907? Haven't we, since then, added hundreds of billions to the country's wealth?
And haven't we got everything now that we ever had?

Could anything be more stupid than talk and action of a kind harmful to business, to banks, and other institutions, upon which the prosperity of us all and every man's employment depend absolutely?
Twenty-three years ago, in October, 1907, when many were taking their money out of banks, making a bad condition worse, as some are doing now, there was published widely a useful statement headed "A word to the thoughtful". It said:

"To the wise no word is necessary. Men of knowledge understand full well that the country was never more prosperous, and that a panic in the midst of such unexampled industrial and commercial activity as this nation has recently enjoyed, and still enjoys, is a grotesque absurdity.
"The reasoning of those persons who are now participating in runs upon perfectly solvent banking institutions is on a par with that of these citizens who, at the time, because they merely pay rent, they need not have the same concern about the conduct of government as those who own property.
"The informed man knows that those who pay rent are as much taxpayers as those who own the houses in which they live. Their concern with government is equally as great as that of the property owners.
"Likewise, the man who draws money from a perfectly solvent bank, in such a time as this, instead of protecting himself, may be promoting his own undoing.
"Credit is the life of business. If banks fail, business will totter. If business is wrecked, employment will cease. And what will it profit a man if he get his small hoard from a bank at the price of his business or of his job?
"Think of this before you join a line of the panic-stricken."
The statement was signed "William Randolph Hearst."

What was true then is true now. Those that allow themselves to become foolishly frightened when the country has lost nothing real, except its courage, hurt themselves and others.
Every intelligent person should

CLARK'S RULING FAILS TO CHECK RUM WARFARE

New Jersey Raiders Stage Drive; Thirty Are Arrested

(By Associated Press)
NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 17.—Prohibition enforcement continued to function in New Jersey today despite the ruling of Federal Judge William Clark that the method of adoption made the 18th amendment invalid.
The first liquor raid after announcement of the decision was made under direction of George S. Hobart, prosecutor of Bergen county, who sponsored the state's enforcement measure; in the legislature. He led a squad of police in a raid on the Riverside Boat and Yacht club early today, in which 30 men and women were arrested.

Judge Clark's Ruling
Judge Clark held that ratification of the 18th amendment by the state legislatures was not the method prescribed by Article five for adoption of amendment which transfer powers from the states to the federal government. He held that the amendment to be valid should have been ratified in constitutional conventions in the several states.
"My decision," commented Judge Clark, "will not affect the operation of the prohibition laws in any way. The Hobart act, the New Jersey enforcement law, is also still in force."
Common Pleas Judge William B. Harley at Trenton said that in view of the fact that every possible phase of the question having been threshed out, he could not conceive of Judge Clark's decision being sound.

MOTOR MAGNATE IN AUTO CRASH

Henry Ford Escapes Injury In Youngstown Accident

(By United Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 17.—Henry Ford, the multi-millionaire automobile manufacturer, was in an automobile accident here last night but escaped uninjured, it was learned today.

The motor magnate, his secretary and a third man were driving through Youngstown, enroute to Detroit from Washington when the accident, which was of a minor nature, occurred, it was said.

A fender of Ford's car was bent and Ford and his secretary drove to the Trinity Motor company where E. H. Shadburn, manager, obtained another car for them.

There was much secrecy concerning the mishap which occurred in Federal street, Youngstown's main thoroughfare. It was said the Ford machine was in a collision with another car.

Ford declined to discuss the accident and when asked for an interview said he had "absolutely nothing to say."

Program Planned At Concord Church

The Concord Presbyterian church, north of Salem, on the Ellsworth road, will hold a special Christmas service next Sunday evening. "The First Christmas" will be the title of an exercise to be given.

Monarchy Winner As Revolt Wanes

MADRID, Dec. 17.—The Spanish monarchy and the government of Premier General Damazo Berenguer emerged clear-cut victors today from a week of insurrection and republican agitation, but national wide unrest still remained a threat to both.

Dispatches from over Spain today indicated returning normal conditions and lapsing of the general strike which followed the military revolts at Jaca and Cuatro Vientos.
There are no advices from Valencia, where reports yesterday said the revolutionaries had taken control, executing three loyal generals.

Heads Italian Air Squadron

General Italo Balbo, Italian air minister, heads the air squadron which today took off for Spain on the first leg of its projected flight to Rio De Janeiro. He is seen here taking with General Umberto Vallet, staff officer, at the base in Orbetello.

Italian Planes Zoom Away On Trans-Atlantic Flight

Twelve Ships In Air Armada, With Rio De Janeiro As Goal, Off To Cartagena; General Balbo At Head

(By Associated Press)
CARTAGEN, SPAIN, Dec. 17.—Twelve Italian seaplanes, on a flight from Orbetello, Italy, to Rio De Janeiro, arrived here at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They left Orbetello at 7:45 this morning.

ORBETELLO, ITALY, Dec. 17.—Twelve Italian seaplanes roared away from Lake Orbetello at 7:45 a. m. today (1:45 a. m. E. S. T.) and headed for Cartagena, Spain, on the first lap of a projected transatlantic flight to Rio De Janeiro.

Balbo Heads Expedition
Picting the first of the planes was General Italo Balbo, Italian air minister and leader of the expedition, which in many ways represents the most ambitious transoceanic flight adventure ever attempted. Fifty three men comprised the officers and crew of the Fascist Air Armada.
From Cartagena, the airmen plan to fly down the Mediterranean and west African coast to a point near Dakar, Senegal, whence the expedition will take off on a 1900 mile flight across the Atlantic to Natal, Brazil, from Natal they will strike out for Rio De Janeiro. It is planned eventually to sell the planes to the Brazilian government and to return home by ship.

Departure to the expedition followed a brief ceremony. Before leaving the fliers doffed their hats and raised their arms in the Fascist salute.

Pilots Black Plane
General Balbo took off first in a black-winged plane emblematic of Fascism, two similar machines following. Then came three other groups of three planes each, the first with white wings, the second with red wings, and the third with green wings, representing the Italian national colors. In the rear were two relief planes, which may be substituted for any of the original twelve planes which may fall enroute.

Weather reports, after two days' postponement of the start, were favorable.

Prior to departure General Balbo discovered that chicken sandwiches had been included in the lunches fixed for the aviators. He ordered them removed, stating: "Chickens don't fly. They would mean bad luck to us."

Each of the twelve planes carried two sacks of mail for South America.

Records of past meetings showing how the association organized committees to serve in civil affairs and also make efforts to have other industries locate in Salem were read.

Wilson was introduced by G. R. Deming, secretary-treasurer of the Deming company, who presided at the meeting.

Mount Union college's undefeated debate team was awarded the decision in the debate with Case college at the Salem High school auditorium Tuesday afternoon.

The debate was held on the subject: "Resolved That the State of Ohio Should Adopt a System of Unemployment Insurance." The Mount Union team upheld the affirmative.

The Alliance college trio has been undefeated in debates where expert decisions were awarded for the last three years. Kent State, Akron and Waynesburg have been defeated this year.

SEEK TO BOOST OUTPUT IN NEW PUMP DESIGNS

Deming's At Work On Modern Types For 1931 Production

SEE IMPROVEMENT FOR COMING YEAR

Executives Report Fair Operation At Present Time

Increased production and general improvement in the American pump industry are expected for the year 1931 in announcements made by executives of The Deming company here today.

Changes In Designs
Changes in designs of numerous pump models in accordance with demands are expected to add impetus to the industry during the coming year. Executives are looking forward to an era of steady employment.

The Deming company is one of Salem's oldest established industries and recently observed its fiftieth anniversary. The company has entered into manufacture of all types of pumps including new centrifugal pumping equipment and pumps in sizes and capacity from the smallest cistern device and hand sprayer to a ponderous triplex and centrifugal power pump for waterworks, mines and other industries.

1930 Business Fair
Officials of the company explained the year 1930 was marked by no great activity in the pump industry but said that business at the Salem plant was maintained at a fair capacity throughout the year.

Engineering experts are being retained by the Deming company for the development of the new designs which will be placed on the market next year. Much experimental work was accomplished during the last year in the development of a new electrical pumping apparatus.

W. L. Deming is president of the company and F. J. Emery is vice-president. G. R. Deming is secretary-treasurer.

JAMES WILSON CLUB SPEAKER

Tells About Activities Of Manufacturers' Association

James H. Wilson, secretary-treasurer of the Salem Tool company, discussed the history of the Salem Manufacturers' association at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday.

The Manufacturers' association, of which Wilson is secretary, is observing its 25th anniversary this year. Wilson traced its history from inception to the present day, reading minutes of former meetings.

He explained the purpose of the organization as one which was established not only to band together the city's industrial interests but also give the manufacturing plants an opportunity for organized effort in behalf of the community.

Records of past meetings showing how the association organized committees to serve in civil affairs and also make efforts to have other industries locate in Salem were read.

Wilson was introduced by G. R. Deming, secretary-treasurer of the Deming company, who presided at the meeting.

Mount Debaters Down Case Team

CITY APPROVES NEW TAX RATE; PLANS LIGHTS

Signal Lamps To Be Installed On Downtown Streets

Salem's tax rate for 1931, fixed at $24.30 on each $1,000 valuation by the county commission, was approved by city council at its meeting in city hall Tuesday night.

The 1931 rate is an increase of 2.70 mills over the rate during 1930, the increase resulting from additional bonded indebtedness.

Discuss Traffic Lights
A general discussion on the traffic committee's proposal for the installation of new signal lights at downtown business intersections was held by council members. City Engineer F. S. Barkhoff was requested to confer with the committee and proceed with plans for the erection of the lights.

The traffic signals now used on downtown intersections will be erected at various intersections in residential districts. The location of the lights as recommended by the committee was approved by the body.

Submits Truck Estimate
Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy submitted an estimate for the remodeling of the city's old fire truck for use to make runs to outlying districts recently annexed by the municipality. Malloy estimated the cost of making the truck over into a chemical vehicle at approximately $750.

A hose basket, 250 feet of one-inch hose, three chemical tanks, acid containers and others equipment will be purchased.

Funds for the project will be included in the 1931 appropriation ordinance of council.

A total of 2,695 persons, the greatest enrolled in a period of five years, became members of the Salem chapter, American Red Cross, in the annual roll call campaign held here recently, chapter officials announced today.

The membership exceeds the total enrolled last year by 495, the 1930 figure being 2,200.

Red Cross workers are confident that the Salem chapter will again rate high among Ohio municipalities in membership. For the last three years Salem's roll call campaigns have been the best, proportionately, in the state.

The Red Cross is planning its winter campaign to aid needy families in this city, workers reported today. Food, fuel, medical treatment and other assistance will be given in many homes.

Another campaign for funds may be necessary in the spring of 1931, the chapter reporting today that additional finances may be needed to continue providing aid for all needy families.

Appreciation of the cooperation given by Salem residents and manufacturing plants in the roll call drive was expressed today by officials of the chapter. The officials also explained that persons wishing to submit constructive comments on the Red Cross work do so by calling them.

Persons knowing of families needing aid are asked to notify the Red Cross by calling at telephone 229. Residents wishing to provide aid for a family during the Christmas season will be given a name by calling at the chapter's headquarters.

POSSE SEEKING GIRL'S SLAYER

Bloodhounds Are Used To Track Down Teacher's Assassin

(By Associated Press)
MARYSVILLE, MO., Dec. 17.—Aroused by the mysterious slaying of 19-year-old Velma Colter in the county school house where she was a teacher, a posse using bloodhounds sought her unknown assailant today.

The body of the girl, beaten about the head, was discovered at dusk by T. H. Thompson at whose home she resided. He said he went to the school house when the girl failed to arrive home at the accustomed time.

The young teacher's bloodstained clothing were heaped beside her body. Dr. C. D. Humbert, coroner said she had been attacked.

Sheriff Harve England was informed by school children that Miss Colter had remained alone in the building to read examination papers after dismissal of school at 4 o'clock. He said that Will New, a farmer living adjacent to the school, reported noticing a stranger loitering on the grounds.

Give Them Jobs

BEVERLY HILLS, CAL., Dec. 17.—There must be an awful lot of factories, and firms, and individuals that have always shown some kind of appreciation to their folks on Christmas, who perhaps this year, on account of conditions, are not able to do all they would like to do, and are at a loss just what to do.

Wouldn't this be more welcome than a gift? Send each one a note, and tell 'em that they are not going to be fired, that their position is secure. I believe that will be a mighty acceptable Christmas present to everybody that is on salary. It will beat any present you can send, relieve their anxiety and let them go out and do some shopping of their own, and thereby help everybody.

We are had off, but the world ain't coming to an end yet. Yours,

THE PENDULUM

United States investments in Mexico were estimated at close to $1,000,000,000 at one time. On Jan. 1, 1930, however, the department of commerce placed the amount at $683,000,000. Therein lies a story. It might be called "the dollar and the pendulum."

In 1917 when Senor Carranza was president of Mexico a famous and very unpopular article was added to the Mexican constitution. It declared, among other things, that ownership of land does not carry with it ownership of mineral deposits below the surface.

This legislation, which amounted to expropriation, was exceedingly unpopular with American investors. Long negotiations, marked by several crises, between the United States and Mexico, were necessary before the legislation was declared non-retroactive to the satisfaction of this country. The whole affair added materially to bitterness between the two countries—bitterness that has done nothing to increase the amount of American investments in Mexico.

Now, in Mexico, legislation is pending that will do a great deal to remove the causes of bitterness. It is proposed to make it much easier for American investors to turn to Mexico by softening the old-fashioned harsh laws. For instance, it is proposed to exempt sugar plantations, orchards and dairy farms from seizure for the communal farms which Mexico has been developing in recent years. It is proposed also to forbid further accessions to existing communal farms unless payments for the new land are made in cash. In the past, such payments have been made by bonds, usually redeemable at only a fraction of their face value. This was obviously unfair.

The Mexican chamber of deputies already has approved the amendments to draw American capital back into Mexico. President Rubio approves the law and, since he controls the senate, enactment seems to be assured. The pendulum in Mexico is taking a swing toward cooperating with Washington and encouraging capital from north of the Rio Grande.

THE FIRST TURNING

Last year at this time the Carnegie foundation's report on collegiate football was the topic of conversation when talk turned to athletics. The report disclosed that professionalism was rife among the colleges and universities; that the glorious game of football was rapidly becoming tarnished by contact with money.

This year there is a different topic—a more healthy one. For the first time in the memory of the young men who played football last season there is serious, intelligent consideration of the course which must be pursued to place football on an amateur basis again. There is, in fact, a widespread and often bitter tone of rebellion against the million-dollar football business that has taken away so much of the pleasure from the football game.

The University of Pennsylvania's team has revolted openly. Most of the players refused to come out another year unless they could be instructed by a coach whom they respected and liked. As a result, the university will retain a new coach and the team will be placed under student control. In many other schools there has been contemplation of similar action.

It is the first turning in the march toward saner football—the first move to give football back to the young men who play it. Also, it is the first note of the recession march for a number of high-salaried and harder-driving coaches, more interested in winning games and getting more money than in the welfare of the young men placed in their charge by a short-sighted educational policy.

The existing notion seems to be that football belongs to the furred and flaked alumni, the coaches, the sports pages, the radio and everyone else who has money to help stage the spectacle. The notion of the future must be that football belongs to the young men who pay tuition to go to college, where they may or may not play football. With the game directly under student control, for instance, it is unthinkable that the members of the football squad would be subsidized from the funds of students who wanted to play the game themselves. It is unthinkable, too, that any coach who treated his men like third-rate pugilists would be tolerated for long.

There have been many long, dark days for those who rebelled at the monopolization of football by merchants and taskmasters. The present movement to make it a game again is the first bit of cheer in many a year.

What Others Say

ACHIEVEMENTS OF WOMEN

We are pained, we must confess, whenever we read about something like this dinner which Lady Astor gave to 36 celebrated women because "I think women had a simply wonderful year. Nearly everything valuable that was done was done by women, and it has not been half recognized—not a quarter recognized, in fact." And the reason for our distaste is not that it awards women too much, but that it awards them too little; it implies that up to a short time ago what they had done that was valuable was nothing. This is so naive, so smug, so insensitive to the whole point of human existence that it utterly flabbergasts us.

When you come to analyze what it means you find it is this: That women had a simply wonderful year at doing things usually done by men. Proof of this can be found in the roster of Lady Astor's guests; they include a lady aviator, a lady scientist, a lady politician, and so on. But for the sex to take pride in this is as silly as for men to take pride in some gentleman who can do embroideries or another who can nurse sick people, or another who can bake cakes. The gender of those who perform all such services varies from century to century, and from country to country, and matters not at all; the only thing of importance about them is how well they are performed.

There is a realm, to be sure, where men function as men and women as women. But it has very nebulous boundaries, and involves such things as manners, taste, dress and general culture. If men are more boorish now than they used to be, then they have slipped back; if women are more informed, better dressed, more urbane in their address, and thus more charming, they have gone ahead. But here we are on ground where ideas differ, and where conclusions can not be drawn by partly checking off the valuable things that have been done, and inviting the 36 women who have done them to dinner. Indeed, we are up against an appraisal of civilization itself, and not many are equipped to tackle it.—New York World.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—It had been whispered about for some time the old master glorifier, Ziegfeld, was slipping. His agile young competitors, Carroll, White and lesser entrepreneurs were coming up from behind with a rush! Rumor mongers pointed out several facts.

Ziegfeld had been slowing up in show productions and had answered the call to Hollywood to dabble with talkies. Most of his executive staff had been dismissed. One or two of his final legitimate stage efforts were not so hot from the box office.

There was even talk Ziegfeld, the 6th avenue was to be taken over and re-named for a younger rival. The Rialto was writing "Fins" to its oddest figure who came out of nowhere and with an office under his hat sponsored the national theatrical institution—The Follies.

Or so it was generally believed. One can imagine Ziegfeld, himself, adding what credence he could to the talk with a card up his sleeve. He is that sort of a showman. He, of course, confounded all the wise-ones a month ago with his Marilyn Miller starring smash.

In a way it was a sort of double coup for both Ziegfeld and his star. There were the same vague whisperings about Miss Miller, too. She had been, they said, over-exploited and was at her best only a briding and smirking dancing girl with a few nimble steps and a property smile.

Yet with his familiar and worked-to-death Cinderella theme—the basis for that old conspicuous success "Sally," headed by Miss Miller—he has triumphed theatrically as never before. The critics fairly prostrated themselves with high-flown elegiacs. Too extravagant, to my notion.

Ziegfeld's art is in assembling and discarding. He puts together enough there by process of elimination. He will, par example, pit two hoofers against each other and engage the one that comes nearest to breaking a neck. He shoots with a blunderbuss.

A Ziegfeld opening takes on something of the splendor and pomp of a coronation set in the gilt halls of Versailles. A block each way is policed off and powerful searchlights splash the front of the theatre a la Hollywood. Crowds throng the sidewalks to peep into the arriving limousines. As they step from the cars the flux of fashionables is immediately stopped at crucial moments and the great snatched in the utter ridiculousness of arrested attitudes. The while their names are broadcast to a palpitating megaphone. All of which is likely supreme showmanship but to my notion is an immodest gesture that comes very nearly being The Great American Vulgarity.

Prof. Ziegfeld's exercises bring cut a complement of potables in tail coats. The dinner coat is so rare as to be noticeable. Yet the impresario himself is conspicuous in a business suit with his usual lavender shirt with collar to match. He reappears his company right up to time doors are thrown open.

Despite this rave and pay no critical attention to it. The latest Ziegfeld play is a box office flop. So there you are!

Tip to ice-creamists: The tastiest ice-cream in town is the coffee flavoured at Schrafft's. At least at this writing.

A truthful gentleman with no particular interest in psychic affairs relates this story, regarding it solely as a coincidence and not a conjuration. He accompanied a lady to a hotel to call for another gentleman to go on to a dinner. They announced themselves and waited. When the gentleman stepped from the elevator the lady turned ashen and all evening was nervous. Next morning she phoned her escort. "I have been unable to sleep" she said. "The gentleman we called for last night is doomed. I saw a light around his head." Two days later the gentleman who was "doomed" was rushed to a hospital and passed away before reaching an operating table.

CONVULSIONS IN CHILDREN

Convulsions in young children, particularly in infants, are commonly seen. Unfortunately, many parents assume the wrong attitude toward this disorder.

I once heard a mother say, "I had convulsions when I was a child. There is nothing to get excited about. I had them, the child has them, everybody has them."

It is true that convulsions rarely kill a child. But, if not remedied, the thing that actually causes the convulsions may prove very serious.

The "functional" type of convulsion is the usual type seen. Indeed, it is by far the more common.

Certain materials absorbed from the digestive organs will cause convulsions. In such cases, if seen and recognized as such, a good dose of castor oil will bring speedy recovery.

Convulsions may be due to some body poison. This is true in diseases of the kidneys or liver.

A rare cause, but one to be warned against, is lead poisoning. This poisoning is usually due to the child's rubbing and swallowing the paint from the crib or furniture.

Children suffering from under-nourishment are particularly prone to convulsions. This is commonly seen in rickets. There is no doubt whatever that if all infants were properly fed, nine-tenths of the cases seen in infancy would disappear.

When a child has a convulsion, call a physician at once. You want him for his skill in first-aid. But also, it is important that he see the child while in convulsion so that he may more accurately determine the real cause.

The patient should be kept perfectly quiet. All unnecessary noises and excitement must be avoided. Cold in the form of ice-packs should be applied to the head. Dry heat should be applied to the body and extremities, or the child should be placed in a hot tub bath, which you have tested with your elbow to be sure it is not too hot.

A mustard footbath is a good measure and may be applied as the child lies in the crib.

Internal medicine should only be given under the supervision of a physician. As soon as the convulsion has ended, the doctor will seek the cause which must be found and treated. This is absolutely imperative and must not be neglected.

CONGRESS LOOKS TO EXECUTIVES IN RELIEF TASK

Asks Secretary Hyde To Give His Version Of Drouth Plan

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Steam- ing up to the point of threatening to cut off its own Christmas holi- day, congress looked today to the executive branch of government for information to help it out of the relief legislation tangle.

Calls On Hyde A house committee asked Secretary Hyde to tell his own version of how the $60,000,000 drought relief proposal came about, or at least whether he had any part in it. The mate had before it a new resolution by Senator La Follette, Republi- can, Wisconsin, asking that Chair- man Woods of the President's em- ployment committee and a lot of other officials come up and tell the mem- bers just what can be done and is- ing need to alleviate the unemploy- ment.

These men have already given such information to President Hoover, and their presentations sent to make up the relief program presented to congress two weeks ago. Senator La Follette, however, put in his proposal after the chief executive announced he had no re- port from Chairman Woods and the only suggestions he had made "re- specting that confidential relation of the President with government offi- cials which should be preserved."

Proposal Rejected The agriculture committee of the house made Hyde before it at its request, made after it again had rejected a Democratic proposal to approve the senate's $60,000,000 drought bill, carrying the disputed food loan provision.

Before the senate today also was the report of its conference committee on the $116,000,000 public works bill, recommending abandon- ment of amendments to restrict the President's discretion in spending the money, cutting the wages to be paid on its projects and make special provisions for some states.

CLARK FAILS TO CHECK WARFARE

Charge of transporting beer, in which the indictment was quashed by Judge Clark's decision, was, by the opinion today with a new of taking an appeal.

He said the appeal might be taken either to the United States circuit court of appeals or direct to the supreme court.

"Meanwhile," he said, "As I understand it, no other judge in the United States, nor the judges of this district are bound by the opin- ion and therefore, enforcement of the Volstead act in New Jersey still continue until the remaining three judges of this bench all de- cide in agreement with Judge Clark, or, until a decision of the higher courts is reached in his opinion."

Outcome of Test Case Judge Clark's decision was the outcome of what amounted to a test case of the contention of a committee of the New York County lawyers' association that the adop- tion of the 18th amendment was invalid under the 10th amendment of the constitution which modified Article Five.

Judge Clark at 38, is the young- est member of the federal bench. He was appointed in May 1923, by President Coolidge, resigning from the bench of the New Jersey court if appeals are accepted. His ap- pointment was backed by the late Wayne B. Wheeler, su- perintendent of the Anti-Saloon league.

On his five years as a federal judge three of his decisions have been reversed out of 33 cases car- ried to higher courts.

Judge Clark's decision, 15,000 words, devoted little attention to points raised by counsel.

Never Submitted to Court Declaring the points he was de- ciding had never been submitted to the supreme court, Judge Clark noted that the fifth article state: amendment to the constitution may be ratified "by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof."

"Political science," he wrote, "can give only an answer to the question presented by the alter- native methods of ratification pre- scribed by Article Five if the amendment to be considered is one designed to transfer to the United States powers heretofore reserved to the states, or if there are any such, to the people, that answer must be in favor of the convention method."

He held his decision should not affect other amendments ratified by state legislatures, since the only one whose nature in any respect resembled the 18th, was the 13th, the slavery amendment.

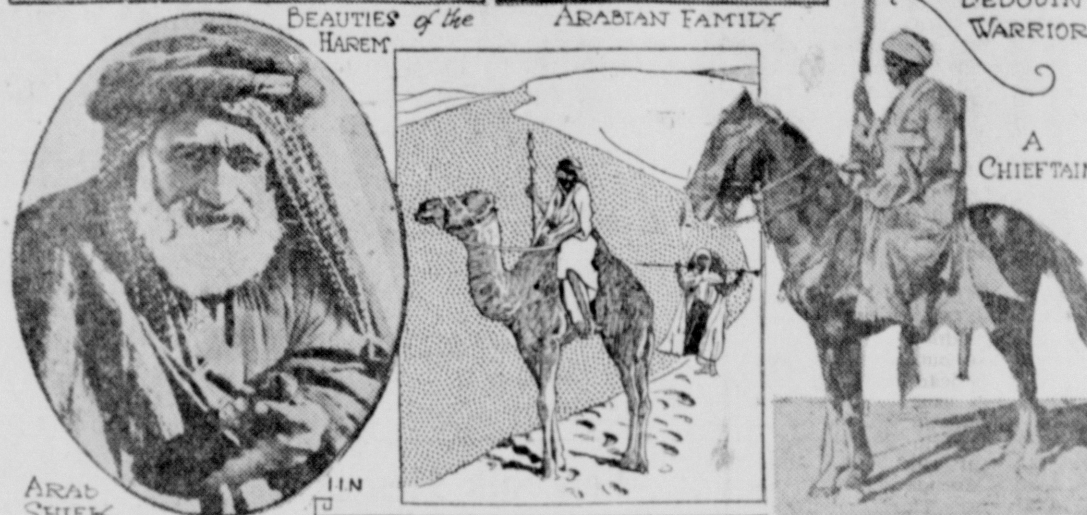

The distinction, he said, was that the 13th amendment did not "re- peal the 18th, contain a grant of power to regulate and prohibit certain acts."

NEW ORLEANS—Oo-la-la will mean a "heap big" get-together in New Orleans New Year's Eve. The first community New Year's Eve dance ever to be held here has been designated the Oo-la-la. And, it means plenty, those in charge say, with a slogan "Bring Canal Street to the Municipal Auditorium."

Arab Wives Bought for $8 to $24

General Depression Compels Desert Sheiks to Reduce Harem —Many Remain Bachelors in a Land Where Prestige Is Measured by Number of Wives.

NEW YORK.—In these unromantic times when husbands are worried about business and the stock market, you may feel that it might be thrilling to be the wife of a sheik.

You may suppose that those free and passionate desert souls are never concerned with anything so mundane as money.

Harem Depression Still, reports indicate times, too, are hard in Algiers. So bad it seems that the sheiks are afford- ing only one wife and some of them are remaining bachelors. When you stop to think that the social and financial status of an Arab gentleman is determined by the number of wives and cattle he pos- sesses, you will realize that the men of Algiers are very much strapped.

To possess only one wife in Al- giers is like owning one suit in America. From this simile we may imagine what it must be like to possess no wife at all.

The cost of a wife in Algiers has gone up with the cost of living. A wife today is worth between eight and ten dollars. The top price is $24.

And the prospective husband must purchase the bride without seeing her. He has no idea what he's getting, and, worse still, he has no redress. Once the Arab gentle- man has bought a wife, he has to stick to her. There is no divorce for him.

Contrary to Western ideas, the Arab sheiks do not prefer Western women to their own. In the first place a Western woman would be considered a luxury, for she could not get out in the fields and work like her Eastern sister. Of course it is only the poorer class which permit their women to work in the fields without face covering. The better class generally live in towns and cities, where the Arab wives spend their entire time indoors or on the roof terrace, save for an occasional visit to the mosque, during which her face is covered, leav- ing only her large dark eyes peer- ing over the top of her veil.

THE SILENT ARAB Even with the wealth which has theirs the wife of an Arab sheik is far from pleasant. The husband is the most uncompanionable scur on earth. He practically never talks. He thinks and he thinks and only Allah himself knows what thoughts are going through the un- washed head.

He owns little less. An Arab will not steal. Stealing is most unethical. But he will take whatever he wants while the owner is looking on, which to his code is perfectly ethical.

THE NATIVE TAXI The glamour of life which to the Western mind is associated with the Arab sheik, to the natives is nothing more than a life of hardship, which however, is taken in that free and easy fashion. Even the most ad- vantage-loving Western girl would scarcely feel happy riding in the native taxi, which serves as a pro- tection for the harem beauties against the burning rays of the desert sun. The women are seated in the baskets on either side of the camel with their faces concealed by a veil which is only raised in the presence of their lord and master. Now these olive-skinned beauties are considered more desirable than Western women and far less ex- pensive, inasmuch as they can be had for about eight dollars.

Colombia, Ecuador, Panama, Peru and Bolivia. Born a rich man, his father an owner of much land, and many slaves, Bolivar interested himself in human liberty, and fought for it, to his death.

He was a far-seeing statesman, and law-makers today might learn from him. He foresaw the trend and the difficulties of democracy, and his last proclamation, as su- preme head of Bolivia, was issued to the people on his death bed.

He went successfully through through 200 bloody battles. That will interest those that care little about statesmanship.

In the way of real news, you read more violent fighting in China, and more trouble in Spain. Yesterday's news from Spain told of rebels executed. The rebels are supposed to have captured Valencia, and they have killed three generals. "Reds," a new fea- ture of civilization, help to make matters worse in Saragossa, and famine threatens because of many strikes.

News, important to the world, is the fall of silver to a new low price. It sold yesterday for 31 1/2 cents an ounce.

India and China, with one half the population of the earth, depend on silver for their buying power. And the buying power of one half the world's population makes a big difference to the other half.

Germany has found a way to make danger signals plain even for the color blind. Drivers approach- ing a railroad track need not know the difference between White and Red. The warning comes in flashes. While the way is clear, a white light flashes 40 times a minute. When a train approaches, a red light is turned on and flashes 80 times to the minute.

The train automatically switches the red and white lights, on and off.

HOSPITALS NOW ONE OF NATION'S BIG INDUSTRIES

Total Value Of Plants And Equipment Ahead Of Other Lines

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Ameri- can hospitals, multiplying rapidly in recent years, now constitute one of the nation's major industries.

While the ordinarily healthy in- dividual has only a casual acquaint- ance with hospitals, it was re- vealed today that there are nearly a million beds occupied most of the time by persons ill in mind or body.

Investment Is High It was also revealed in a report by Dr. Rufus Rorem, economist on the staff of the committee on the costs of medical care, that the total value of hospital plants and equipment is $3,125,123,000. This is more than the total investment in the label or paper and printing industries. It is nearly half the investment in iron and steel and their products.

The committee was organized under the chairmanship of Sec- retary of Interior Wilbur to study the economic aspects of the pre- vention and care of sickness. Rorem gathered facts which put a new and surprising light on the ex- tent to which hospitalization has developed.

Dr. Rorem's report showed, among other things, that: The average daily cost of main- taining a hospital bed is $5. The annual cost of the 7,310 hospitals in the United States is $900,000,000 or nearly one-third of the total yearly expenditures of the federal government.

Ninety-one per cent of the $3- 125,123,000 investment is on a non-profit basis, provided in about equal proportions by governments and private associations.

Resources Unevenly Divided There are enough beds in the country as a whole to give every man, woman and child one day in a hospital every year.

The hospital resources are un- evenly divided, the far west provid- ing the most service per capita.

There are communities having inadequate hospital facilities and others where the hospitals normal- ly operate below full capacity.

Ninety-five per cent of all nerv- ous and mental cases in hospitals and 70 per cent of all hospitalized tuberculosis cases, are in govern- ment supported institutions.

State governments have invest- ed about $300,000,000 in hospitals. Practically all hospitals, it con- sidered as a business enterprise, are run at heavy losses. In 57 New York hospitals patients as a group paid only about two-thirds of the cost.

TIED WHEN SHE GOT UP

Strengthened by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I used to be as tired when I got up in the morning as when I went to bed. I had fainting spells and palpitation. Of course it was my age. I read a Lydia E. Pinkham booklet and started taking the Vegetable Compound three times a day. I am now a well woman. Three of my neighbors know what it did for me so they are taking it too. I will write to any woman if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help her as it did me. I feel like a young woman now and I thank you."

G.O.P. EXTENDS OLIVE BRANCH TO INSURGENTS

Five Revolters Are Given Chairmanships, Committee Places

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Dec. 17.—Regular Republicans will go into the new Ohio senate with the olive twig extended to the five insurgents who bolted the recent caucus.

The first peace overture was seen yesterday when the committee on chairmanships gave each of the revolters a committee chairmanship and representation on most of the 21 standing committees.

Insurgents Are Absent
All of the insurgents absented themselves from the meeting. Republicans must have the support of at least two of the insurgents in order to control the senate.

The insurgents and the committees they will head are: C. J. Anderson, Shelby, utilities; V. D. Emmons, Akron, conservation; Frank E. Whittemore, Akron, public works and state buildings; Walter G. Nichols, New Philadelphia, highways and automotive; and Nils P. Johnson, Youngstown, commerce and industry.

The Democrats were given one less than a majority on most of the committees, but received no chairmanships.

Assign Chairmanships
Chairmanships assigned to regular Republicans included that of the finance committee which went to Robert L. Roche, of Tiffin. Joseph N. Ackerman, of Cleveland, who had sought the finance post, was made chairman of the temperance committee which will handle bills dealing with prohibition. Ackerman, a wet, expects to submit bills to repeal all state liquor laws. Three other members of the temperance committee also are avowed wets.

John A. Lloyd of Portsmouth, has not revealed his attitude. The important taxation committee which will handle legislation to revise the state's taxation system under the new classification plan will be headed by Roy E. Gillen, of Wellston.

Lewis Rules Chief
Earl R. Lewis, of St. Clairsville, president protem-designate, was chosen head of the rules committee which will be of importance in pushing through majority legislation in case the insurgents withhold their support. D. H. Dearmond of Hamilton, minority leader, also is a member of this committee.

Other chairmanships include: Milton J. Scott, Chillicothe, banks and loan associations; J. G. Lowery, New Concord, education; John A. Lloyd, Portsmouth, enrollment; William A. Clark, Urbana, insurance; L. L. Marshall, judiciary; and James E. Pinefrock, Canal Fulton, public health.

The committee on patronage also met yesterday, assigning 26 of the 41 minor senate jobs to Republicans and 15 to Democrats. All committee choices are subject to ratification by the senate which convenes January 5.

RECEIVE FUNDS FOR ROAD WORK

Townships To Get $1,400 From State Excise Gasoline Tax

LISBON, Dec. 17.—Various townships in Columbiana county for the current year have received $1,400 from excise gasoline tax, which is $200 more than had been anticipated. This money is to be used for the construction by township trustees of secondary roads.

Auditor Gets $7,200

A voucher for $7,200 has been received from the state by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker, which is being distributed equally between the 18 townships of the county, and during the year a total of $25,200 has been distributed between the townships.

County Auditor Walker has been informed that in 1929, there was sold in Ohio 13,400,000,000 gallon of gasoline, and that the average tax per automobile for gasoline was $17.72, and the average amount of gas used by each motor vehicle during that period was 332 gallon.

Under the three-cent tax law prevailing in 1928 approximately $25,000 was collected in Ohio and in 1929 under the four cent tax approved, approximately $44,000,000 was collected. Of this amount, various municipalities according to vehicle registration in 1929 received $4,700,000 and the various counties were paid $4,400,000.

The state received as its share for that year $15,500,000, or 62 1-2 percent of the amount collected. The 88 counties in the state received a cut equal to five percent and the 1,338 townships received a share equal to 10 percent. From the share the state received, $1,000,000 under the more recent law was appropriated for the elimination of railroad crossings.

CAPITAL CALM FOLLOWING DRY LAW DECISION

Amendment Supporters Predict Reversal In High Court

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Neither cheers nor groans echoed in Washington at news that a federal judge had ruled the 18th amendment invalid. Such opinion was expressed here today held the decision would not cut much ice.

Dry predicted the supreme court, if and when the ruling comes up for review, will reverse it. They cited numerous precedents. The justice department held it could not, until after supreme court action, affect the status of prohibition. Anti-prohibitionists in Washington had not summed up their attitude, but most heads of national wet groups in other cities were conservative in comment.

The drys gave their position in expressing belief that the grounds upon which Judge William Clark, of New Jersey, yesterday decided against the prohibition amendment, had been held unsound by the supreme court years ago. Edward B. Dunford, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, said the contention in the case "is not new," and "was held unsound when first made ten years ago."

The highest bench has held repeatedly that various attacks on constitutional prohibition had no merit. It has refused to entertain several other attempts to break down the amendment. Those who know well the workings of the court hold the view that in matters of this sort it is inclined to a liberal construction of the constitution's provisions. The justices thus would be interpreting the amendment as an expression of the people's will which should prevail over the narrower technicalities.

The only direct effect anticipated from Judge Clark's ruling was a possibility that in his jurisdiction authorities might refuse to act against violators.

MOVIES

"KING OF JAZZ"
At The State
The comedy and instrumental specialties of the Paul Whiteman band are famous, are presented in "King of Jazz," the Universal super-spectacle which plays tonight for the last time at the State.
The Rhythm Boys, whose inimitable harmonies have enthralled audiences all over the world, Wilbur Hall and his unique instrumental numbers, John Fulton with his romantic voice, "Goldie" Goldfield with his eccentric cornet—all of these, and others, are in the all-Movietone, all-Technicolor film.
The specialties are distributed throughout the eight huge musical spectacle numbers conceived by John Murray Anderson, the director, and the comedy and musical specialties and black-outs which make "King of Jazz" the superlative in screen entertainment.
The cast includes John Boles, Laura La Plante, Glenn Tryon, Jeanette Loff, Grace Hayes, the Russell Markert dancers, the "Hollywood Beauties," the "Sisters G. G." Paul Howard, Al Norman, Charlie Irwin, Jacques Cartier, Billy Kent, Frank Leslie, the Brax Sisters, the Tommy Atkins Sextet and Neil O'Day.

"THE CUCKOOS"
At The Grand
"The Cuckoos," musical comedy produced by Radio pictures, will have its final performance at the Grand tonight.
Two comedians, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, head the all-star cast. They will be remembered for their clever antics in "Rio Rita."
Dorothy Lee, who also played in "Rio Rita," again is teamed with Wheeler and Woolsey and scores with her inimitable singing and dancing.
Jobyna Howland, six foot comedienne from Broadway, makes her talking picture debut in "The Cuckoos." She is said to be a ludicrously funny foil for Wheeler and Woolsey. June Clyde and Hugh Trevor furnish the romantic love interest in a charming manner.
Although nine featured players are included in the cast, "The Cuckoos" is not a revue. Taken from the stage play, "The Ramblers," the picture definitely carries the plot of an exciting story in a hilarious manner.

Salem High Faces Stiff Opponents On Cage Court This Week

GOLDEN EAGLE, GROVE ELECTRIC CAGERS WIN LEAGUE VICTORIES

THE DAY In Sports

BUSY CAGE WEEK AHEAD.
CHARITY GAME MONDAY.
FIVE CONTESTS TONIGHT.

With the municipal league basketball season already under way Salem basketball fans will have a week replete with cage contests, five being played at the Memorial gym tonight, two at Kelley's park, Leetonia, on Thursday night, two at Canton Friday and another pair involving Coach Floyd Stone's Red and Black quintet, at Akron East gym, Saturday night. The games Friday and Saturday inaugurate the Stomenen's 1930-31 cage campaign.

The R. E. Grove Electric cagers are the busiest of any city sandlot teams, having played one game already this week and are scheduled to appear in action in two others. Tonight they clash with the strong Lisbon Pennzolls in the main attraction at the Memorial building with the Golden Eagle quintet battling the New Waterford Independents in the semifinal. Three Class B league teams are slated as preliminary entertainment.

Thursday night the Grovemmen inaugurate basketball in Leetonia, meeting Doc Beaver's Leetonia Merchants in the first basketball game played at Kelley's park in five years. Two Class B teams from this city will appear in the preliminary tilt.

Salem High's youthful and partly veteran cage quintet faces almost certain defeat in both its opening games this week. Both Canton McKinley and Akron East, powerful teams last season, have almost their entire array of stars back and are destined to once again rate high in state interscholastic competition. In the face of these facts a large group of Salem fans will be witnessing both contests.

Max Schmeling must either accept a deftly hurled jab by Jack Sharkey or lose his heavyweight championship fight title. So the National Boxing Commission cabled him Tuesday afternoon for the six-months allowed him in which to accept Sharkey's challenge has expired. Schmeling promised to give the garrulous god a return knock directly after winning from him on a foul in a bout held at New York last June. Instead of standing by his promise he returned to Germany.

The German has done nothing to improve his boxing talents since leaving this country so the N. B. A.'s action in vacating the heavyweight throne is expected. If this occurs Sharkey will probably be placed into the spotlight as the first in line for the vacated throne with Max Baer, W. L. "Young" Stribling and other likelihoods next in line. No elimination tournament is planned.

To make doubly sure his getting another crack at Schmeling and the title which now should be his Sharkey filed another challenge with the N. B. A. Tuesday afternoon.

MANAGERS! NOTICE!

Managers and coaches of basketball teams wishing to insert articles relating to the activities of their teams in The News are requested to submit such before 9:30 a. m. the date of publication. No sport news can be handled after that hour unless it is of vital importance. Summaries of games played must be in before 9 a. m. and should be placed in The News office the night the games are played.

Score sheets for managers are available in The News editorial rooms for managers planning to send in results of games.

Pro Grid Teams To Clash For Laurels

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Benny Friedman's New York Giants and Ken Strong's Stapleton outfit have decided to meet in a rubber game to decide the professional football championship of New York. They will clash in the Polo grounds Sunday.

The Giants won the first game, a regularly scheduled National pro league contest, 9 to 7, on Friedman's field goal but Stapleton gained revenge, 7-6, on Thanksgiving day.

Florists, Furnace Lose Decisions In Opening Games At Memorial

The 1930-31 Class A municipal basketball season was ushered in with two exciting, though rough battles, at the Memorial building gymnasium Tuesday night, victory laurels being awarded to the R. E. Grove Electric company and the Golden Eagle court aggregations.

The Golden Eagle team started its campaign for a second consecutive city league championship, defeating the Electric Furnace combine, 36-21, in the second game on the night's program. The Electric trimmed the McArthur Florists by a 24-20 score in the first and most exciting contest.

Electric Set Pace

The Electric set the pace most of the way in the opener and held a 7-3 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Posies rallied slightly in the second period to climb within one point of a tie and the half ended with the score 9-8. With the game continually becoming rougher, both teams went on a temporary scoring spree late in the edge and the fourth quarter third period, the Florists holding started with the score knotted at 16-16.

Two foul shots by Andy Flip placed the Posies ahead for the first time during the game but a

CLASS A CAGERS CLASH IN GAMES IN CITY TONIGHT

Five Contests Scheduled; Grove Team Meets Lisbon

Five basketball games, featuring two Salem Class A league teams in contests with out-of-town sandloters, will be played at the Memorial building gymnasium tonight.

Golden Eagle Plays

The two feature contests involving the R. E. Grove Electrics in the main battle of the evening against the Lisbon Pennzolls while the Golden Eagle clashes with the New Waterford Independents in the semifinals. Three city Class B league games will furnish preliminary entertainment.

The first Class B game, featuring the Lutheran Cadets versus the "Question Marks" is scheduled at 6:45. The Trinity Lutheran church team meets the Salem China quintet in the second with the Business College and Schafer's Green Room five clashing in the third.

Saxons Win Easily

In a practice game played at the Memorial gym last night the Salem Saxons, competitors for their second straight Penn-Ohio German league championship, showed every indication of being a real titular contender this season, defeating the fast-stepping Canfield Olympics, 44-29. Work of Les Older and Schwartzoff were features of the victory.

The Deutschmen open their league season Jan. 10, meeting the Alliance Saxons here. Pete Sanders is coaching the Salem team.

MONTREAL, QUE., Dec. 17.—A strong American contingent again will compete in the Canadian indoor tennis championships, here Jan. 20-24.

Nine Lettermen Back At Canton; Three Big Stars At Akron East

Salem High's youthful varsity aggregation faces almost certain defeat in two games which will inaugurate the Red and Black cage campaign for 1930-31 season, being scheduled to clash with two veteran squads, touted as outstanding teams in Ohio interscholastic competition. Canton McKinley High and Akron East, both victors over Coach Floyd Stone's team last season, are played Friday and Saturday nights, respectively.

McKinley High has a potential state championship creation this season, as all members of the team which last March advanced to the semi-finals of the state tournament at Columbus are back. Nine letter men are on the squad. They are Captain Don Black, Robert Schreiber, Grady Odom and Earl Schreiber, forwards; Robert Forsyth and Robert Swihart, centers, and Frank Hodnick, Joe Cross and Roy George, guards. The latter was an all-state selection in 1930-31.

Youngsters Show Promise

In addition, there is at least five newcomers of exceptional merit. These include Elbert (Doc) Clark and Earl Miller, forwards; John Boylan, center, and George Thorley and Buddy Hartel, guards. All were members of last season's reserve team of which Clark was captain.

This stellar array of talent has presented Coach Dought Peabody with the opportunity of developing two combinations of almost equal caliber. R. Schreiber and Black at the forwards, Forsyth at center and George and Hodnick at the guards is considered the first-string lineup. But another quintet which finds Clark and Odom at the forwards, Swihart at center and Cross and Hartel at the guards is little less impressive.

Swamp Columbus South

The Bulldogs have played only one of their 17 games this season, defeating Columbus South 34 to 7 here last Friday night. To say that McKinley played poorly may sound foolish in the face of such a decisive score, but it is nevertheless true. When the boys hit their stride they'll be a hard number to beat and the first team played only a little more than half of the Columbus game. South, of course, is nothing about which to post bills, showing little on defense and absolutely nothing at all on offense.

Last season Canton didn't have a letterman back while Salem had six, the latter being the heavy favorite to trim the Bulldogs. Instead Canton registered a one-sided 40-22 victory which started the Stone men off into a winning streak of seven straight. Salem has seldom developed an outstanding team from the start of the season, the campaign of 1925-26 and 1926-27 being the only exceptions in the past decade. During the latter season Salem played McKinley in the finals of the district tourney at Akron Goodyear gym and won the sectional title with a 22-16 victory over the Bulldogs.

Friday's game will be the third played between the two schools in more than ten years.

Apply Back At East

Akron East fails almost as well as Canton in the number of lettermen available. The team opened its season by trouncing Youngstown Chaney's ambitious quintet, 36-13 last week, Russell Estey, who with Apply won all-Ohio honors for performance at the state tournament last season, being the only member of this famous quintet missing from Coach Luther H. Smith's lineup.

Apply, one of Ohio's leading athletes and who was placed at guard on Ohio all-star selections last season, is back together with Fontaine

Grove Electrics Will Battle Leetonia Merchants Thursday

Renewing basketball activities in Leetonia, the Leetonia Merchants battle the fast-stepping R. E. Grove Electric company team in the main game of a doubleheader scheduled at Kelley's park pavilion Thursday night.

The Merchants have been holding practices at the hall for the past ten days and will place a strong team into independent competition this year, Harold Lowrie of Salem, manager of the park, announced today.

Burke Coaches Team

Buck Burke, former Columbiana

and Bennett, star forward and center, respectively.

East, with Estey scoring 14 points, defeated Salem, 28-27 in an overtime game played here last season. It was the second game on the Red and Black schedule, the game then being played in same order as the McKinley, East games this season.

Coach Smith will probably send Fontaine and Onderker at forward; Bennett at center, and Apply and Fessler at guards against the Stomenen. Krino, reserve center, and Warnick, forward, will also be used in the game.

Stomenen Optimistic

In the face of these facts, Coach Stone and his assistant Frank Lewis, are sending the Red and Black aspirants through a series of workouts marked with optimism of players and coaches alike. Faced with defeat, the lads are working towards the organization of a strong team and there is every chance that the Quakers will produce a really classy quintet before the close of the campaign.

From the workouts at the school gym it appears that the Quakers will put up a stiff battle against both opponents this week. Stone anticipates the score in the Canton game to be closer than last year while East is not at all the favorite the McKinley Bulldogs are. One thing is certain—if the Stomenen trim McKinley, East will never be able to stop them.

High and Mount Union cage star, now coach at Boardman High school, is coaching the team.

The Leetonia aggregation is being backed by Dr. P. H. Beaver. Repairs to the pavilion for the installation of equipment for the basketball court were made possible through donations of lumber by Ira F. Melinger.

A large crowd of court fans is anticipated at the contests, it being the first basketball involving a Leetonia team in five years. Lack of a playing court prevented organization of teams until this season and plan are already progressing for the return of the sport into the high school.

Organize Class Team

Class teams are holding almost daily sessions and it is probable that an intramural league will be established.

The Grove Electrics, with former Salem High cagers, are one of the city's classiest Class A aggregations. Included on the team's roster are Paul Fogg, Evan "Jinx" Jenkins, Bruce Cope, Pete Harsh, Bunker Hill, Clarence Sidinger and Jimmy Scullion. Eddie Tresler, Salem tonorial artist, is manager.

Two Salem class B teams will play the preliminary, scheduled to start at 7:30.

Rudolph Threatens Greenleaf's Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Once more Ralph Greenleaf of New York, faces an uphill battle to retain his world's pocket billiards championship.

As a result of the spectacular play of Erwin Rudolph, Chicago ace, Greenleaf must defeat Onofrio Lauri of New York in the championship tournament tonight and Rudolph tomorrow night to gain a tie. Should he accomplish this he then would have to meet Rudolph in a play-off for the title.

Rudolph hung up his sixth successive victory of the tournament last night, defeating Arthur Woods, New York, 125 to 108 in 33 innings. Greenleaf has won four matches and lost one.

Galen Greenisen Discusses History Of Auto Tire Development

Comfort, Speed Show Increase Over Years

Rubber Manufacturers Important Contributors To Success Of Industry In Evolution Of Transportation

"Early experimenters in motor transportation were confronted with one all consuming problem," says Galen H. Greenisen of the Greenisen Tire Service at 176 South Broadway, recalling some of the incidents in the early development of the automobile; "that was the problem of making the contraption run more than a mile or so without something going wrong. Ever since that day we have been making them go farther and faster with equal attention to riding comfort. Now, did you ever figure how much tires have contributed to the evolution from the crude gas buggy, at almost prohibitive prices, to the speedy, luxurious car of today?"

"First we had solid tires; then the uncertain and often explosive fabric tire. Next Goodrich introduced the cord tire and we had easier riding and greater security along with more mileage. Then came the balloon tire. Of course there is much to be said on both sides of the question, but whether better tires made better automobiles possible, or faster automobiles made better tires necessary will always be a subject for argument—like the question of the egg and the hen.

"Probably the facts are that tire manufacturers and auto manufacturers worked so closely together that the difference doesn't amount

OLD FURNITURE IS REPAIRED TO LOOK LIKE NEW

Bodendorfer Master Hand At Reupholstering Work

Reupholstering furniture is a fine art and William Bodendorfer at the Bodendorfer Furniture Store, Mr. Bodendorfer has had a wealth of experience at this trade, having been in business at that location for over eighteen years and 35 years in the business. He can take an old piece of furniture and make it look like it came out of the shop yesterday, and he likes to do this work, which is perhaps the secret of the success he has made in it.

But it is not necessary to wait until a piece is useless to have it reupholstered. Every home has a piece or two that is showing the signs of age. It is out of keeping with the new wall paper and the brightly cleaned rugs. Sometimes a sentimental value attaches to it. That piece can be upholstered in new colors, refinished if necessary and be just as attractive as anything in the house.

Of if you are tired of the looks of your home, as people often are, and you just don't know how to get it to suit you, try new upholstery. A change of color is perhaps the one thing you need to give you a harmonious, restful living room, and Mr. Bodendorfer will be much pleased to help you select the fabrics that will be the most effective.

CHEF AT OHIO SUPPLIES FOOD THAT SATISFIES

Local Restaurant Serves Dishes For Tired Appetites

When you have done a full day's work and want a good meal to top off the day's performance, when your appetite is not any too good because you are tired, just step into the Ohio Restaurant at 604 East State street, make up your mind you are going to get something good, and order one of the steaks. Pretty soon it will appear, done just as you want it, and you will say there is no scarcity of good meat in America today if you only know where to go.

Let the chef prepare you a side order of French fried potatoes and take with it one of the salads you find on the bill of fare. The former will crackle as your teeth meet; the latter will melt into a delicious freshness as you lift a forkful. After you have eaten the last crumb—and you will, for a man does not leave anything that tastes so good—add to it either a fine piece of good pie or a dash of ice cream, sip your coffee in content, and the world will become rosy again. The old brain will take up the things you want it to do with renewed vigor, and you will wonder why you ever felt a day's work had exhausted you.

That is the mission in life of William Nyktas, proprietor and chef of this restaurant—to supply food that makes mankind content. He devotes his whole attention to this, for he watches everything at this place, from the buying, in which he sometimes order a whole beef, to the serving.

Nyktas knows good food. He makes it as near the homemade variety as a restaurant can, and he is complimented when you tell him he does real home cooking. The Ohio is open all day and in the evenings. It solves the question people frequently ask themselves, "Where shall we eat?" and solves it satisfactorily for a large and increasing patronage.

Repair Of Differential Is Made Economically And Quickly

Axelrod's auto wrecking establishment performs a service for a number of people who pass through Salem as well as for the residents of the city. Last week a man was towed into town with a differential gone bad. He was on his way from Kansas to New York, and the stop meant a heavy expense and a total rearrangement of his plans. A local garage man found the parts needed at Axelrod's and in just about 24 hours the party was on its way, with only a minimum of the threatened expense and a small part of the delay.

In the place at 511 East Pershing can be found a large number of parts, and in the central warehouse of the Axelrod company, fed regularly by five big yards, are parts for just about every car on the road.

Another service is in the disposal of wrecked or worn out cars. This company will buy these, paying cash for them, and towing them to their place, where they are dismantled.

There is always on hand a large number of used tires, many of them in a very satisfactory state; used batteries of different makes, used radiators, and not infrequently just the piece of glass you need to replace the broken one in your car.

Winter Confinement Calls For Bright, Cheerful Homes

The fact that folks are confined to their homes more during the winter months makes it imperative that the interiors of these homes should be made attractive and comfortable. The logical time to fix up the inside of a house is right now, and two things which probably will have to be done are papering and painting.

Many people think that it is necessary to hire this work done, but this idea is largely the result of never having made the effort. How do you know you can't do it if you've never tried? With a good quality of wall paper and the necessary tools, even a beginner can produce a very presentable looking job. At any rate it will look better than the old paper. The same thing is true of painting—everybody likes to paint

Many Modern Conveniences Dependent On Sheet Metal

Much of the comfort and convenience of modern life has come to depend on sheet metal. Queer how our great grandfathers had to get along without these things, how little our fathers used them, and then again how the present generation has come to depend on things that were of little use to previous generations. But the humble sheet of galvanized metal has assumed so many uses in our homes and places of business that good sized concerns have grown up to do the work in this metal.

Our roofs, our heating apparatus, our sanitary comforts and many other complexities of modern life often depend on how well this work is done. The leaking roof, the inadequate heating pipe and a dozen other discomforts await the man who has a botched job in this metal.

Those are ample reasons for entrusting such work to a house that has a reputation to sustain. When this house happens also to have a remarkable record of continuity in business, furnishing it with the experience to know how to do work as it should be done as well as evidence of popular approval, and which prides itself on the quality of the work it does, you are safe in calling them up and telling them what you need.

Such a concern is Starbuck Bros. located on North Ellsworth ave., with a record of seven years of service.

BELMONT, Ia.—The wearing of a weaver's vest here denotes a "poor picker." The idea originated with R. T. Coe. Each week he and three others picked football results. The poorest forecaster in the quartet each week had to wear a vest, resurrected from by-gone days, double-breasted and of conspicuous plaid—the type that was once associated with race track followers and professional gamblers.

NEW ORLEANS—A Canadian trapper-hunter was the first permanent resident of New Orleans, archives of the French Ministry of Marine reveal. He was Eugene Barba DePallo, who lived where New Orleans now stands from 1701 to 1708, says Charles L. Thompson, New Orleans historian.

PASCOLA COAL IS FAVORED BY SALEM BUYERS

Quality And Service Of Fuel Wins Number Of Friends

When the same customers demand the same thing over a period of years in the present competitive market, it may be stated very confidently that they are getting something worth while. It is the best kind of a testimonial to the worth of the article. One that basins the Pascola Coal company, 755 East State street, has something pretty good in the coal they sell. The coal from their own mine, which is their exclusive line, has made a host of friends in this city, as shown by the repeat orders. It has done this strictly on its merits as a good fuel, for there are many varieties of coal sold in Salem, and if anything was any better the customers would not stick to the Pascola Coal the way they do.

Maybe the service the company gives helps in this. With a large number of trucks at their disposal, the deliveries are made promptly and the customers are treated with the consideration and courtesy valued patrons should receive. But these would not count much if the coal did not give such complete satisfaction. Phone 537.

WASHINGTONVILLE
"Gwen Allen's Christmas," a sacred dramatic cantata in three acts will be given by the Trinity Lutheran Sunday school on Sunday evening, December 21 at 7:30 o'clock. The story concerns the children of the Gray family who are making their Christmas plans together with their friends, all members of the "Go and Serve Club," trying to take care of a rather long list of needy people. A telegram announces the arrival of a cousin of the Gray children, pampered, spoiled and self-centered. All prospects of a happy season seem spoiled, and at first Gwen lives up to her reputation. But when brought face to face with the desperate need of the club's proteges, she experiences a change of heart, and throws herself whole-heartedly into the enterprise of the club, with the result of a happy Christmas, all around.

The Cast
The cast of characters: Joseph Justice, Marie Candle, Theolina Indermill, Betty King, Betty DeJane, Myron DeJane, Arlene Girard and Eleanor Davis.

Special numbers which will be given between acts will include recitations, exercises and special music. The offering will be used for the needy families of the community. An invitation is extended to the public.
